Investor Information

Return on Investment

This includes the capital return on your investment (net of any contribution fees), plus any distributions paid during the reporting period.

Termination Value

The amount you would have received if you had requested a full withdrawal at the end of the period. If the Fund in which you invest paid a 30 June 2021 distribution, and you received this as a cash payment, your Termination Value does not include this distribution amount.

Direct Fees

Represents fees deducted directly from your investment this period as shown under the Fund Transactions section of your statement.

Indirect Costs of your investment

Indirect costs have the effect of reducing the value of your investment, even though the cost is not charged to you directly as a fee. There are different types of indirect costs. They include fees payable out of the Investment Fund to the responsible entity; amounts paid out of the Investment Fund to service providers (such as managers, custodians and administrators); and some of the costs incurred by the Investment Fund investing in a derivative. Indirect costs also include similar amounts incurred in underlying entities where the Investment Fund has invested into the underlying entity in order to gain exposure to another asset or investment. This is not an exhaustive list of the types of indirect costs. The particular types of indirect costs that apply to your investment will depend on a number of factors, including the assets held in the Investment Fund. Some of the different types of indirect costs are based on estimates which is why the amount in this statement is stated to be an approximate amount.

This approximate amount has been deducted from your investment and includes all the other management costs that were not paid directly out of your investment. These costs are included in the unit price and affect the return on investment.

Total Fees You Paid

This approximate amount includes all the fees and costs which affected your investment during the period. Please refer to the latest Product Disclosure Statement or Information Memorandum available at www.tyndallam.com for full details of fees and costs which affect your investment.

INTRODUCING YARRA CAPITAL MANAGEMENT

Effective March 2021, independent Australian fund manager Yarra Capital Management (Yarra) and global funds management company Nikko Asset Management (Nikko AM) entered into a binding agreement through which Yarra Capital Management would acquire Nikko AM's Australian business. The transaction was completed in April 2021.

The purpose of this letter is to answer some of the key questions you might have in relation to this transaction, and to advise you of a number of branding changes we are making to our range of products.

How does this impact me?

At completion of the transaction, Nikko AM's Australian business became part of the Yarra Capital Management Group. Nikko Asset Management Australia Limited, the responsible entity of the funds, has been renamed Yarra Investment Management Limited. As an investor in Nikko AM's investment products, the main change relates to where you now go to find information in relation to your investments (e.g. performance and unit pricing). You can refer to <https://insights.yarracm.com/nikkoam> for details of where you can access this information.

The other key change is that, depending on the investments you hold, you may soon start receiving statements and letters from us (instead of Nikko AM).

Do I need to do anything?

No, you do not need to do anything in response to this letter.

Have there been any changes to the product disclosure statement of my fund?

The product disclosure statements of the funds have been reissued to reflect the above changes and other minor amendments. There have been no changes to fees and costs charged to you.

To obtain a copy of the latest Product Disclosure Statement for Yarra and Nikko AM branded funds visit www.yarracm.com/pdsupdates, for Tyndall branded funds visit www.tyndallam.com/pds or by contacting us using the contact details above.

Who is managing my investments?

It is important to note that your investments continue to be managed by the same team that previously managed them. There is no change to the way in which your investments are managed, or who they are managed by.

Is the name of my fund going to change?

Yes. For investors in Nikko AM's Australian products, the names of these products will soon change. These changes are summarised as follows:

Previous Fund Name	New Fund Name
Nikko AM Australian Bond Fund	Yarra Australian Bond Fund
Nikko AM Australian Share Wholesale Fund	Tyndall Australian Share Wholesale Fund
Nikko AM Australian Share Concentrated Fund	Tyndall Australian Share Concentrated Fund
Nikko AM Australian Share Income Fund	Tyndall Australian Share Income Fund
Nikko AM Global Share Fund	No change
Nikko AM ARK Global Disruptive Innovation Fund	No change
Nikko AM New Asia Fund	No change
Nikko AM Conservative Fund	Yarra Conservative Fund
Nikko AM Balanced Fund	Yarra Balanced Fund
Nikko AM Growth Fund	Yarra Growth Fund

Who is Yarra Capital Management?

Yarra Capital Management is a leading independent, active Australian fund manager with approximately $22 billion of assets under management. The firm was founded in January 2016 following the management buyout of Goldman Sachs Asset Management's Australian business. Yarra provides access to a broad range of Australian equities solutions, consisting of long-only, concentrated strategies, and fixed income capabilities which provide clients with access to credit products. The firm serves the Australian institutional and retail markets, and its Australian investment products are accessed from various international markets, including Japan and New Zealand.

Why is my managed fund changing to Tyndall?

As part of the transaction, Nikko AM's Australian equities business is being rebranded to Tyndall AM. While it forms part of the Yarra Capital Management Group, the name change returns the business to its former heritage.

The Tyndall AM business continues to be led by Brad Potter (Head of Australian Equities) and Tim Johnston (Deputy Head of Australian Equities). There is no change to the way in which your investments are managed, or who they are managed by. For further information about Tyndall AM, please visit www.tyndallam.com.

Why did the transaction happen?

The bringing together of the two businesses under a single umbrella creates one of Australia's largest independent fund managers, enabling us to continue strengthening our offer and support to you, and providing the additional scale to support greater investment in talent, technology and operational excellence.

Importantly, Nikko AM has become a 20% shareholder in the enlarged Yarra Capital Management Group, providing alignment into the future.

More information on the transaction can be found at www.yarracm.com/nikko.

Who do I speak to if I need further information?

If you have any questions or concerns in relation to this letter, please don't hesitate to contact us using the above contact details.
