Trustee must not provide a new insured benefit other than those that are consistent with the conditions of release in superannuation law.

Upon written request from a member the Trustee may obtain an insurance policy of a specified type in respect of the member, the Trustee must obtain that policy, except if it is of the opinion that the policy is not in the best interests of the member or the dependants of the member.

Once the Trustee has informed a member that a policy of a specified type will be obtained for the member, the Trustee must obtain the policy except if the member has requested the Trustee in writing not to obtain the policy. Any premiums for a policy obtained must be debited to an insured member's accumulation account*, in absence of an accumulation account, they must be debited to the pension account. The Trustee must collect any proceeds from the insurer, upon the death of the member and credit to the insured member's account to pay a benefit as set out in this deed, after any tax to the beneficiary of the member.

70. The Trustees may provide a declaration to the nominated or participating employer, if requested by the employer that the member is over 65 years old, that the member is gainfully employed on a part time basis. A part time basis means that a member works at least 40 hours in a 30 day consecutive period in a year where contributions are made by the member or by the member's employer.

Allocation of Contributions

71. The Trustee may establish a reserve account known as an unallocated contributions reserve account for all contributions received for all members. The Trustee must execute a written resolution when funds are allocated to or from the unallocated contributions reserve account. Any contribution received by the fund on behalf of a member, in one financial year may be allocated to the member in the following financial year provided this allocation is allowed by superannuation law.
72. Trustee may accept contributions on behalf of members and may credit contributions directly to members' accounts or in the interim credit unallocated contributions reserve account of the fund subject to superannuation law. This rollover or transfer out of account balance of the member can be paid by the Trustee either in specie, that is, by way of transfer of assets of the fund at market value* or in cash, if allowed by superannuation law.
75. The Trustee may accept a rollover or a transfer of a benefit for a member from another complying fund. This rollover or transfer in, on behalf of the member can be received by the Trustee either in specie, that is, by way of transfer of assets of another fund at market value or in cash, if allowed by superannuation law. The Trustee may accept a death benefit payment as a roll over from another fund where the beneficiary of the death benefit is a member of this fund. The Trustee may pay a death benefit of a member as a roll over to another fund either in cash or in-specie where the beneficiary of the deceased member is a member of another fund.
76. The Trustees may, on the request of a member, rollover or transfer the benefit of the member from the pension account* of the member to the accumulation account of the member. This internal commutation or rollover within the fund must be in the manner prescribed by superannuation law. A Trustee will automatically commute* one or more pension account of the member to accumulation account of the member, if the total of all pension accounts breach the transfer balance cap amount (for the financial year) of the member to the extent of the excess amount.

VI. Investments

Permitted Investments

77. The Trustee of the fund may make such investments as are allowed by superannuation law. In making investments, the Trustees of the fund must have regard to the formulated investment strategy and risk management strategy of the fund and follow superannuation law on acquiring assets from related parties including Part 8 associates. Investments may be made in any asset(s), as follows:
 - in shares, stocks, options, hedging or swapping or similar arrangement, debentures, bonds, notes, interests, payable with single or payable in periodical instalments and with or subject to any futures, options, rights, benefits, conditions or provisions whatsoever attached or securities of listed in any authorised stock exchanges consistently with the SIS Act and SIS Regulations;

 - Life insurance and other policies for the liquidity of the fund;
 - in life insurance policies (including those offering risk cover) for the benefit of the member and their nominated beneficiaries;
 - in Crypto currencies or similar type of digital or media assets purchased from authorised exchanges as permitted by superannuation law; and

78. The Trustee may appoint an individual(s) or a corporation as administration manager, investment manager, financial planner or as a custodian* to hold the investments or property of the fund as a nominee or as a bare trustee for the benefit of the fund. However, the Trustee will have the ultimate discretion and responsibility of all investment decisions and assets and property of the fund.
79. The Trustee must not, except to the extent allowed by superannuation law, perform any of the following: borrow money from the fund; charge the assets of the fund other than by way of limited recourse borrowing arrangement; borrow to improve a single acquirable asset; acquire an asset intentionally from a related party (including Part 8 associates) of the fund; invest in or loan to or provide financial assistance to members or enter into a lease arrangement with a related party; invest in a geared related trust; invest in any asset or investment where the principal sum is at risk; or conduct any business, partnership or joint venture where the principal sum is at risk.

Investment Strategy

80. The Trustees must prepare and implement an investment strategy for the fund. The strategy must take into account all of the circumstances of the fund and must be reviewed regularly (regulation 4.09 (2) of the SIS Regulations) and take into account the objectives of the fund and retirement goals of its members and whether the fund should hold a contract of insurance that provides insurance cover for one or more members of the fund (regulation 4.09(2)(e) of the SIS Regulations); the risks involved in making, holding and realising each investment; the likely return from making each investment; the range and diversity of investments; any risks coming from limited diversification; the liquidity of the fund's investments; expected cash flow requirements and the ability of the fund to meet its existing and prospective liabilities such as paying benefits to its members.
81. All investments of the Trustee for the fund must fall within the investment strategy of the fund. The Trustees must record each investment decision and reasons relating to their investment strategy, including details about developing their strategy and departing from their strategy.
82. The investment strategy, and all subsequent investments, for the fund may involve investments of an adequate diversification to overcome the risks of investing in any one class of assets. Trustees must consider various types of insurance for assets and property of the fund. Trustees must take into account the personal circumstances of each member of the fund and consider death, temporary & permanent disability and other types of insurance cover for each member of the fund, including when a new member joins the fund or starts receiving a pension from the fund.

The Trustees should review the fund's investment strategy regularly, to reflect their fund's and members' changing needs and changes in the investment market. Before the Trustees borrow to buy an asset, they must ensure that the investment strategy is re-considered including any cash flow benefits of borrowing for members who are drawing a pension from this fund.

Offer choice to members & Exempt current pension income deduction

83. The Trustees may offer a choice of investments to each individual member and let the member know that this choice of investments is available to them. However, the Trustee has the right to accept or reject the investment choice made by a member. This choice of investment by the member could be for the various pension and accumulation accounts held within the fund as long as this choice does not breach superannuation law (Section 295-390 of the ITAA 1997).
84. If a separate investment strategy is implemented for any member of the fund, then the Trustee may segregate the assets of that member at the request of that member (but not segregate pension assets for exempt current pension income calculation purposes). Any income (loss) from this segregated investment may be credited (debited) to that particular member's account (accumulation or pension account or both) so that it does not affect the investment return of other members of the fund.
85. If investment choice is offered to a member and the investment strategy is not working to the member's benefit the Trustee may, at its discretion, vary, transfer or change the investment choice or investment strategy of the member in the interest of the member.

Valuations

86. The Trustees must undertake all valuations of fund assets in Australian dollars on the balancing day at the end of the financial year or when otherwise required by superannuation law or when the Trustee sees fit to do so in case of member leaving or joining the fund during the year. The Trustee must transfer any surplus or deficit in the valuation of assets* to income account. Trustee(s) must use a recognised market valuation method for tax purposes and must base it on objective and supportable data.

Trustee(s) must ensure that market valuations are arrived at using a 'fair and reasonable' process, where it meets all the following (regulation 8.02B of the SIS Regulations): it takes into account all relevant factors and considerations likely to affect the value of the asset; it has been undertaken in good faith; it uses a rational and reasoned process; and it is capable of explanation to a third party.

Trustees may use a qualified independent valuer* where the value of an asset represents a significant proportion of the fund's value or the nature of the asset indicates that the valuation is likely to be complex. Where the fund's assets are real estate or units in private unit trusts or companies, Trustees may factor the cost of selling these assets and any tax applicable to the sale of such assets in determining the market value of the assets.

If the Trustee accepts an asset of a member (or members) to be transferred to this fund, then they must do so at its market value on the date of transfer and the property (or proceeds of the sale of the property) must be segregated for the benefit of that member or members in the same proportions as it was held by them before the transfer to this fund. If there are other members in this fund, who had no interest in the property before the transfer to this fund, then those members cannot obtain an interest in the transferred property (or proceeds of the sale of the property). This clause cannot be amended by clause 201 of this deed.

Trustees may re-set the cost base of any asset to its market value as allowed by any provisions of the Tax Act in order to comply with transfer balance cap and the new transition to retirement income stream* arrangements by making an election with the regulator for the 2016/17 financial year.

87. Trustees must value real property when an event occurs that may affect the value of the property since it was last valued (e.g. change in market conditions, macro-events, volatility or a natural disaster).

Trustees must adopt market valuation concepts where it is:

- acquiring or disposing assets to related parties including collectables and personal use assets*;
- investments made and maintained on an arm's-length basis;
- determining the market value of an in-house asset(s) as a percentage of all assets in the fund;
- determining the value of assets that support a member's pension.

VII. Maintain Records and Accounts

The Trustee must deposit all monies belonging to the fund in the fund's bank accounts promptly upon receipt and keep fund monies separate from their own money (Regulation 4.09A of the SIS Regulations). Trustees must promptly pay all transaction costs*, administration costs* and expenses to creditors, income tax, supervisory levy to the regulator and premiums to insurers of the fund.

The trustee must also pay Division 293 tax* when requested by the member in the prescribed form provided by the regulator. If any asset for some legal reason cannot be held by the trustee on behalf of the fund then the Trustees must clearly document the fund's ownership of the asset with a caveat, legal instrument or a declaration of trust.

89. The Trustees must prepare an operating statement, a statement of financial position, member accounts as per proportioning rules* and an asset register at market value at the end of each financial year and must also prepare any other accounts, register a statement required by superannuation law. The Trustee may appoint (or may remove) professionals such as an accountant, legal professional, registered tax agent, administration manager, investment manager or custodian of the fund to assist them with their responsibilities as Trustee of the fund provided the appointment complies with superannuation law. The Trustees are not bound to follow any advice of the appointed professionals and continue to be personally responsible to the regulator to comply with this deed and superannuation law, even if the responsibilities have been delegated to professionals. The Trustees must follow the direction of the regulator for any rectification or education for contraventions of superannuation law and may be personally liable for any administrative penalties.
92. The Trustee must keep proper records and accounts of all monies received and all the monies paid by the fund for a minimum period prescribed by superannuation law. The Trustees must record:

The Trustee must make the books, records and accounts of the fund available to the beneficiary or legal personal representative of a member in case of death of a member.

95. The Trustee must request the auditor to issue an audit report of the fund in the regulator's prescribed format. The Trustee must ensure that in the audit report, the auditor has stated that the audit has been conducted in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards applicable to the audit of financial reports and financial statements are presented fairly in accordance with accounting policies in the prescribed format plus the auditor's opinion as to whether or not the Trustee of the fund has complied, in all material respects, with the requirements of the SIS Act and the SIS Regulations.
96. The Trustee must prepare a trustee representation letter and issue it to the auditor, declaring that they have complied with their legal and ethical obligations regarding the affairs of the fund. The Trustee must also provide to the auditor any requested documentation within 14 days of it being requested.

98. The Trustee may establish more than one pension account for each member, where the member has benefits which are subject to different payment restrictions or different terms of access as prescribed in superannuation law.

Once a member has started a pension in this fund and if there are any further contributions or roll-overs for the member, the Trustees must establish a new pension account on the same terms and conditions as the existing pension on the day the contribution is made or roll over is received by the fund, unless specifically requested by the member not to commence a pension or choose another day to start a pension. Before converting all new contributions and roll over to new pensions, the Trustee must ensure that the member does not breach the transfer balance cap amount of the member (for the 2017/18 financial year, the transfer balance cap is $1.6 million).

If the member requests the Trustee not to commence a new pension, the Trustee must add new contributions and roll over amounts to the accumulation account of the member or if part of the contribution or roll over cannot start a pension due to the transfer balance cap amount has been achieved, the Trustee must add the remaining part of the contribution and roll over to the accumulation account of the member.

120. The Trustee may refuse to allow the non member spouse to become a member of the fund. However, the Trustee must ensure the interest of the non member spouse is intact from the day of the court order until it is physically paid out to the non member spouse or rolled out to a non member superannuation fund. The Trustee may transfer this pay out amount to a reserve account until physically paid by the fund.

Payment of Split Arrangements

121. The Trustee may allocate any sum owed to a spouse to a separate account until it is paid out to the non-member spouse, or, if the spouse is a member of the fund, until the amount is transferred to the spouse's accumulation account. If at any time the transfer balance account of any member breaches the transfer balance cap amount, the Trustees must immediately roll out the excess amount from the retirement phase value* to the accumulation phase of the member.

The Trustee must not pay a benefit to a member unless the member requests to be paid. An oral request to start a pension, from the member to the Trustee for pensions starting at the end of the fund year or beginning of fund year must be considered adequate election by the member to start a pension provided a written request by the member is forwarded to the Trustee at a later date, to give adequate time to the Trustee to get the accounts of the fund finalized and audited, provided such an oral request does not breach superannuation law.

Individual Trustees may pay a lump sum to a member only if the lump sum is a result of commutation of any pension.

Pension Benefits Payable on Disablement

146. The Trustee may pay a benefit, on a written application from a member, an amount determined at its discretion, to the member (or to guardian or to dependants or to their legal personal representative) on total and permanent or temporary total disablement* of the member's benefit as a pension, on occurrence of member being totally and permanently incapacitated, the payment should be in accordance with superannuation law.

Payment of Pension

153. The Trustee must transfer the balance of the accumulation account at the beginning of the year to the pension account of the member, before starting the payment of a pension, if the pension is being purchased by the member on the first day of the fund's financial year. If a member requests the trustee to start a pension from their accumulation account on any other day, the Trustee must adjust the opening balance of the accumulation account of the member at the beginning of the funds financial year with contributions for the member and any allocation from income account, including a change in the valuation of investments plus any transfer from a reserve account and equalisation account proportionately to the date when the pension is to start (purchase date). The Trustee must use adjusted accumulation account balance as the purchase price of the pension and calculate terms of pension conditions including minimum income stream pro-rata payments for the fund's financial year.
154. The Trustee may use a fund earnings rate as determined under clause 105, to make an adjustment under clause 153 proportionate to the member's financial year's opening balance of the accumulation account to the date which is the pension purchase date. The earning rate may be the rate of income of the fund's last financial year. The Trustee must within the prescribed limits of ITAA 97 advise a member, who is less than 60 years old, of any taxable component included in the pension amount paid to the member in the required PAYG summary form.
155. The Trustee may on request from a member pay "lump sum" payments in specie, which is in the form of assets of the fund instead of cash payment to the member. The Trustee must not pay any pension benefit in specie. The Trustee may fund a pension of the member by purchasing an annuity for the member.

Allocated Pension

156. An allocated pension must comply with the limitations and requirements in the SIS Regulations (Regulation 1.06(4), 1.06(5) and 1.07A) and any other provision of the superannuation law. 157. A member may elect, in writing to the Trustee, to commute the pension in favour of a lump sum payment or another pension paid from the remainder of the balance to the member. A member may elect, in writing to the Trustee, to commute the pension and leave the remaining amount in the member account in the accumulation account, and decide not to start a new pension in accordance with the removal of compulsory cashing restrictions in superannuation law. The Trustee may accept the election of the member if the election is in accordance with superannuation law and do all those things which are necessary to give effect to the member's election.

Market Linked Pension

158. A market linked pension (also known as term allocated pensions or TAP) is a non-commutable pension where the terms of payment of the pension must comply with the limitations and of SIS Regulations requirements (Regulation 1.06(8)) and other provisions of the superannuation law. The Trustee may pay an existing market linked pension from this fund to a member but cannot start a market linked pension from this fund after 20 September 2007. A market linked pension must:
- be paid at least annually of at least of withdrawal benefit (proportionally to the number of days in the first year), until there is no more amount to be paid to the member;

 - be paid to the member based on the life expectancy (rounded up to the next whole number) of the member, or for the member's life expectancy (rounded up to the next whole number) plus 5 years or for 100 years or when the pension is reversionary to the spouse of the member, if the spouse's life expectancy is greater than the member, then the amount paid to the member can be based on the life expectancy (rounded up to the next whole number) of the member's spouse or for the life expectancy (rounded up to the next whole number) of the spouse plus five years.
 - not have any residual capital value;
 - not be commuted unless in accordance with clause 159; and
 - be transferred only on the death of the member.

- another market linked pension is started with the commutation ETP;
 - the commutation occurs within 6 months after the start date of the pension;
 - the member dies and the benefit is paid to the nominated beneficiaries, or the spouse also dies if the pension is based on the life expectancy of the spouse;
 - the commutation is to pay a superannuation surcharge; or
 - to give effect to a transfer to a spouse under the Family Law Split order.

Account Based Pension

160. An account based pension is a pension where the terms of payment of the pension must comply with the limitations and requirements of SIS Regulations (Sub regulation 1.06(9A)) and other provisions of the superannuation law. The Trustee on request from a member may choose to apply the balance of the member's accumulation account to pay a benefit to the member as an account based pension.

The Trustee must pay an account based pension to the member who is in retirement phase and ensure that no more than the transfer balance cap amount of all members' superannuation interests are in retirement phase.

The Trustee may start an account based pension for a member with the following characteristics;

- payments of a minimum amount are to be made at least annually of withdrawal benefit;
- the member may, in receipt of this pension, withdraw as much as they wish above the minimum amount, including the entire amount;
- the pension may be transferred only on the death of the member to a dependant as prescribed in superannuation law;
- the member must not use the capital value or income of the pension to borrow any funds from a third party;
- before a commutation of the pension in a financial year, the Trustee as noted in regulation 1.07D (1)(d), must pay a pension in the financial year in which the commutation takes place, at least the minimum amount prescribed by sub-regulation 1.07D(2); and
- do not permit the capital supporting the pension to be added to by way of contribution or rollover after the pension has started under regulation 1.06(1)(a)(ii) of the SIS Regulations.

161. A member, who is drawing one, two or more pensions, may request the Trustee to commute one or more pension accounts and merge it with the other pension accounts of the member or commute all pensions and start a new account based pension along with the balance of accumulation account, in the manner and form set out in superannuation law.

Compulsory Cashing Requirements

162. The trustee must pay a member's benefit as soon as practicable after:
- the member dies; or
 - payment has to made according to the terms of this deed and superannuation law.

Transition to Retirement Pension

163. The Trustee of the fund may pay any pension as noted in clause 160 of this deed as a transition to retirement pension, where the member is gainfully employed and is under 65 years. Trustees must not allow the member to withdraw more than the maximum annual payment limit of 10% of the account balance at the start of each year or not more than a maximum annual payment limit of 10% of purchase price of the pension, if the pension starts on any date during the fund year. From 1 July 2017, the Trustee must not allow any existing or new transition to retirement pensions to be in retirement phase.
164. The Trustee, if requested by a member in writing or under a pension agreement can pay either an existing allocated pension, an existing market linked pension or an account based pension as a transition to retirement pension.
165. The Trustee must pay transition to retirement pensions consistently and as defined in SIS Regulations (Regulation 6.01(2)). However, such pensions must not be commuted (subject to certain exceptions) and must comply with limits and conditions applicable to each type of pension as prescribed by superannuation law.

A member on a transition to retirement pension must notify the Trustee of this fund on attaining any other condition of release with nil cashing restrictions, such as retirement (gainfully working for less than 10 hours per week), or a terminal medical condition or permanent incapacity (item 101, 102A, 103 & 106 of Schedule 1 of SIS Regulation) or on attaining age 65 (item 106 of Schedule 1 of SIS Regulation). Once the Trustee has been notified, the Trustee must then remove the restrictions imposed by clause 163 of this deed (commutation and maximum 10% withdrawal) to the transition to retirement pension and automatically convert the transition to retirement pension to an account based pension as detailed in clause 160 of this deed, if allowed by superannuation law, and ensure that the pension is in retirement phase (Section 307.80 of the ITAA 1997).

The Trustee must before automatically converting the transition to retirement pension to an account based pension must ensure that that transfer balance cap of the member is not breached including any superannuation balance of the member that is not in this fund. Trustee must make appropriate entries in the member's transfer balance account.

If for some reason, if the whole or part of the transition of retirement pension that is being converted to an account based pension is going to breach the transfer balance cap amount, the Trustee must automatically commute the excess amount to the accumulation account of the member.

Payment of Existing Pensions after 1 July 2007

166. The Trustee may convert a current allocated pension and/or transition to retirement allocated pension to an account based pension, in accordance with superannuation law.
167. Trustee may continue to pay all types of pensions from this fund. Including those pensions which can no longer be started from this fund (e.g. from 20 September 2007 an allocated pension and market linked pension) as long as they are being paid in accordance with superannuation law.
168. If the fund is paying an existing complying pension which can no longer be started in a self managed superannuation fund, along with an allocated pension or market linked pension or with account based pension, the Trustee must obtain an actuarial certificate as to the adequacy of the amount of income allocated to the complying pension account to ensure that there is a sufficient amount to meet the requirements of the complying pension, irrespective of whether the assets of the complying pension are segregated from those assets not paying a complying pension.

Reversionary Pensions

169. The Trustee must not allow a member or a reversionary beneficiary to nominate a non-dependant of the member or reversionary beneficiary as a nominated beneficiary to receive a pension from this fund. A member or a reversionary beneficiary must nominate a dependant as defined in SIS Act (Section 10).
170. Upon the death of a member receiving a pension, the Trustee must automatically pay a pension to the reversionary beneficiary nominated by the member unless the payment of such reversionary pensions is contrary to superannuation law. If the reversionary beneficiary is not a dependant of the member the Trustee must not affect the payment of pensions to a non-dependant reversionary beneficiary. In such a situation the Trustee must only pay a lump sum to the non-dependants as per binding death nomination or to other persons at its own discretion in the absence of a binding death nomination.

If a member fails to nominate a reversionary beneficiary in the pension documents or agreement at the start of the pension or in a binding death benefit nomination form*, the Trustee must allow the member to add a reversionary beneficiary at a later time by a notification without the need to commute the existing pension. If a member wishes to nominate another reversionary beneficiary which is not listed in the pension documents or agreement at the start of the pension or remove a reversionary beneficiary listed in the pension documents or agreement, the Trustee must allow the member to replace or remove the reversionary beneficiary at a later time via a notification without the need to commute the existing pension.

Upon the death of the member, the Trustee must automatically pay the pension of the member to the dependant of the member as a reversionary pension, irrespective of whether the dependant was nominated or not in the pension documents or agreement at the start of the pension or there is a valid binding death nomination in place to pay out a lump sum to a dependant.

Upon the death of a member, without any exercise of any discretion of administrative power of the Trustee, all pensions started in this fund are to be automatically paid (revert) to the dependant of the member, if allowed by superannuation law.

The only instance when the pension of the deceased member will not revert to the deceased member's dependant is when the dependant beneficiary has decided and notified the Trustee, to receive the superannuation pension of the deceased member as a death benefit lump sum.

171. Upon the death of a member receiving a pension who did not nominate any dependant reversionary beneficiary in a non-binding death benefit nomination form*, the Trustee must (without any Trustee discretion) continue to pay the death benefit pension of the deceased member's superannuation interest automatically to any dependant of the member unless the payment of such a reversionary pension is contrary to superannuation law. If there are no dependants living, the Trustee must pay a lump sum to the non-dependants of the member as stated in the binding death benefit nomination form or to other persons at its own discretion in the absence of a binding death nomination.
172. If an individual is in receipt of a reversionary pension is a non-member of the fund, then the Trustees must ensure that the non-member becomes a member of the fund as permitted by this deed and superannuation law.

Segregated Accounts of a Member

173. Subject to clause 177 below, the Trustee may establish segregated pension accounts for members to pay separate pension benefits to each member or segregate all pension assets from accumulation assets of the same member or another member of this fund. If this fund receives contributions for a member who is on a pension, the Trustee may set up an accumulation account for the member for segregating non pension assets of the member including a separate bank account. The Trustee must not allow the segregation of accumulation assets with those assets which are current pension assets for the calculation of exempt current pension income.
174. If a member is being paid two or more types of pensions from this fund, the Trustee must open separate pension accounts for the member and subject to clause 177 below, may segregate the assets of the pension accounts, representing each pension account for the purpose of enabling the Trustee to discharge pension payment liability on each pension account.
175. If the pension assets of the fund are segregated or not segregated from accumulation assets, the Trustee must do whatever is required to comply with superannuation law, including obtaining an actuary certificate for the fund to calculate whether or not there are adequate funds to meet the pension payment requirement in superannuation law and to correctly calculate the tax on the accumulation assets proportion of the fund (Section 295-390 of the ITAA 1997).

Actuary Certificates

176. The Trustee must appoint an actuary and obtain an actuarial certificate if required and in accordance with superannuation law. The Trustee may reduce or increase the payments for any pension, including complying pensions, by any amount it considers reasonable in consultation with an actuary in accordance with superannuation law.
177. Trustees must not segregate its assets (current pension and accumulation) for an income year at a time during the income year there is at least one superannuation interest in the fund in retirement phase (Section 295-387 of ITAA 1997) for calculation of exempt current pension deduction. Trustee must obtain an appropriate actuarial certificate to claim a deduction for exempt current pension income in accordance with the Tax Act (Section 295-390), for a part of the financial year and for deduction for income during that part of the financial year, where the fund has accumulating superannuation current assets of any members where the fund also has pension current assets and is paying a pension to some members during that part of the financial year or for any reason required by superannuation law.

(If all members of the fund are in retirement phase and their member balance on 30 June of the previous year is less than the transfer balance cap amount (taking into account all the members of the fund do not hold a retirement (pension) account in any other superannuation fund), the fund will be considered 100% in retirement phase. If a contribution is made by any member in accumulation account in the current year or if there is an accumulation account of any member on 30 June of the previous year, any exempt current pension income deduction calculations by the Actuary will be done only for the period when the fund held an accumulation account for any member).

Trustee must consider superannuation law at the time of claiming exempt current pension income deduction when minimum amount is not withdrawn by any member who is on pension (e.g. where 1/12 of the annual minimum amount is not withdrawn). When claiming exempt pension income, the trustee must include the total value of all contributions and rollovers when determining proportionate claim of general administration expenses.

Commutation of a Pension

178. Upon written request from a member who is in receipt of a pension, the Trustee must accept to commute a pension and pay a total or partial lump sum to the member, provided the commutation is in accordance with superannuation law and the conditions of release have been met by the member. Any such commutation must be recorded in the transfer balance account of the member and reported to the regulator (e.g. this request by member could be where the member withdraws more than the minimum pension required by superannuation law and decides to commute the excess amount withdrawn).
179. Upon written request from a member who is in receipt of a pension, the Trustee must commute the whole pension of the member and balance of the pension account from such a commutation must be added to the existing accumulation account of the member or in absence of any accumulation account, the Trustee must open a new accumulation account for the member.

180. If the Trustee commutes only a part of the pension to a lump sum, the Trustee must then adjust the amount of the pension payable in accordance with superannuation law.
181. A Trustee may commute a pension if:
- the pensioner dies to pay a lump sum; Upon request by the reversionary beneficiary, the Trustee must revert pension balance of the deceased, on the date of death of the pensioner, to the deceased dependent reversionary beneficiary up to the transfer balance cap amount of the reversionary beneficiary and commute only the remaining pension balance of the deceased member to pay a death benefit as a lump sum. or
 - to pay a splitting agreement or court order under Family Law Act 1975 (Part VIII B) to transfer the benefit to a member or non-member spouse* or
 - to pay a superannuation contribution surcharge; or
 - the term of the pension is over; or
 - as otherwise permitted by superannuation law.
- The funds of a commuted pension are vested with the Trustees in the account of the member until such time the funds are allocated by the Trustee for the above named purposes.
182. The Trustee may, on request of a member, purchase a pension for the member from an outside source, using the balance in the pension account of the member. Income from this pension and any commuted amount from this pension will be credited to the members pension account.
183. If a member requests in writing to roll over their benefit to another complying superannuation fund, and the Trustee accepts the request, the Trustee must affect this rollover within 30 days. The Trustee must ensure that the receiving fund is a complying fund before any rollover request is accepted. Along with the rolled over funds, the Trustee must send all the documents required by superannuation law to the receiving fund. Trustees may charge a reasonable fee and deduct this fee from the relevant account, before rolling over the amount to the receiving fund.

XII. Death of a Member

Death Benefit

184. Upon the death of a member who has executed a valid binding death benefit nomination form, the Trustee must pay automatically a death benefit pension to the dependants nominated by the member in accordance with their valid binding death benefit nomination form. If the dependant beneficiary does not want to receive a death benefit pension and notifies the trustee accordingly, the trustee must pay a lump sum of the balance of the member's account, including any insurance benefits to the dependants nominated by the member or to a legal personal representative in accordance with the valid binding death benefit nomination form as a death benefit.

If binding death benefit nomination form is not valid or if the member has executed a valid non-binding death benefit nomination form, the trustees may pay automatically upon the death of the member, a death benefit pension to the dependants nominated by the member. If the dependant beneficiary does not want to receive a death benefit pension and notifies the trustee accordingly, the trustee must pay as a lump sum of the balance of the member's account, including any insurance benefits to the dependants nominated by the member or to a legal personal representative in accordance with the invalid binding death benefit nomination form or a valid non-binding death benefit nomination form.

Where the beneficiary is a non-tax dependant as defined under superannuation law, the Trustee must only pay the death benefit as a lump sum.

Non-Binding Death Benefit Nomination

185. A member may complete a non-binding death nomination form which requests to whom the Trustees should pay the member's death benefit, pension or lump sum, upon the death of the member. In this form the member can either list their dependants and or legal personal representative. A sample of the form is attached to schedule 2, Part 2 of this deed, but the member may also use any other form that complies with superannuation law.

A member may revoke a non-binding death nomination at any time. A non-binding death nomination can be revoked by the member in writing and the member can provide to the trustee a new non-binding nomination by supplying a new form under schedule 2 Part 2 of this deed or any other form that complies with superannuation law. The Trustees are not bound to follow the request of the member. However, the trustee must take the member's wishes into consideration when making a decision as to whom to pay the death benefit. The Trustee does not have to follow the direction of the member if the member has nominated a person who is a non-dependant, or the payment is to a person not eligible according to superannuation law and ITAA 1997 (including Section 302.195 of the ITAA 1997).

Binding Death Benefit Nomination

186. A member may complete a binding death nomination form, which directs the Trustee as to who should be paid a death benefit, upon the death of the member. This nomination form can be provided by the member even if the member is drawing a pension from their superannuation interests. The member can either list their dependants and or legal personal representative on the form listed in schedule 2B, Part 2 of this deed or any other form that complies with superannuation law. The Trustees are bound to follow the request of the member. The nomination form can be valid for an indefinite period (non-lapsing) or for a certain period and member's signature must be witnessed by two unrelated non dependant adults and executed in accordance with superannuation law.
187. A member may revoke a non-lapsing binding death nomination at any time or put a time period on when the nomination will lapse. A binding death nomination can be revoked by the member in writing; and the member can supply to the trustee a new binding nomination by supplying a new form as set out in schedule 2B Part 2 of this deed or any other form that complies with superannuation law. The Trustee does not have to follow the direction of the member if the member has nominated a person who is a non-dependant, or the payment is to a person not eligible according to superannuation law (Ref: ITAA 1997 including Section 302.195).

Payment of Death Benefit

188. The Trustee may pay a lump sum death benefit to a beneficiary, in specie, by transferring the member's segregated assets or fund's assets if the member assets are not segregated, to the beneficiary, or alternatively, the death benefit may be paid in cash as a lump sum payment as soon as practical.
189. If a payment is a death benefit to a non-dependant, the Trustee must withhold tax from the payment as required by superannuation law.
190. If a beneficiary is entitled to the proceeds from a life insurance policy, made out to the Trustees of the fund, then the Trustee may assign the proceeds to be paid directly to the beneficiary.
191. If the member did not execute a non-binding death benefit nomination while he was alive or if the member's binding death benefit nomination is invalid or ineffective due to superannuation law, at the time of death of the member, the Trustees may pay the benefit of the deceased member to any dependent of the deceased member or to the legal personal representative or to the person managing the estate of the deceased member. If there is no known legal personal representative or any person managing the estate of the deceased member cannot be found, then the trustee must distribute the benefits of the member in accordance with superannuation law within a reasonable time.
192. The Trustee may release an amount, by way of an advance, to the dependant of the member or to the legal personal representative of a member for the purposes of the member's funeral and/or other expenses relating to the death of the member. Trustees must pay the member's death benefit to the beneficiaries as soon as practical.
193. If there are unclaimed monies and no known beneficiaries, the Trustee must pay such unclaimed moneys in accordance with the legislation governing the payment of such unclaimed moneys.
194. Once the Trustee has paid a death benefit, it will no longer be liable to any damages to any person who claims to be entitled to the death benefit.
195. If a death benefit has to be paid to a beneficiary who is under a legal disability or a minor, then the Trustee may make the payment to the legal personal representative or guardian or parent or person who has custody of the beneficiary.

Payment of Death Benefit when Member is Accumulation phase

196. If a member is in accumulation phase, upon the death of the member, the trustee must pay the benefit to the beneficiary as a lump sum.

Payment of Death Benefit when Member is in Pension phase

197. When a member is in pension phase, upon the death of the member, where there is a valid binding death benefit nomination in place and a pension agreement, if there is no reversionary beneficiary nominated in the pension agreement, the Trustees must pay the member's death benefit automatically as a pension to the dependant nominated in the valid binding death benefit nomination. However, upon request from this beneficiary, the Trustee may pay a lump sum as a death benefit as soon as practical.

When a member is in pension phase, upon the death of the member, where there is a valid binding death benefit nomination in place and a pension agreement, if there is a reversionary beneficiary nominated in the pension agreement, the Trustees must pay the member's death benefit in accordance with the reversionary pension agreement. However, on request from this beneficiary, the Trustee may pay a lump sum to the beneficiary as a death benefit as soon as practical.

198. When a member is in pension phase, upon the death of the member, where there is an invalid binding death benefit nomination in place and a pension agreement, if there is no reversionary beneficiary nominated in the pension agreement, the Trustees must pay the member's death benefit to any dependant of the deceased member, without its own discretion, automatically as a death benefit pension. However, if this beneficiary is a non tax dependant under superannuation law, the Trustee must only pay a death benefit lump sum.

When a member is in pension phase, upon the death of the member, where there is an invalid binding death benefit nomination in place and a pension agreement, if there is a reversionary beneficiary nominated in the pension agreement, the Trustees must pay automatically the member's death benefit in accordance with the pension agreement as a reversionary pension. However, on request from this beneficiary, the Trustee may pay a lump sum to the beneficiary as a death benefit as soon as practical.

199. If the deceased member has nominated reversionary beneficiaries in the pension agreement and dependants in a valid binding death nomination form and no reversionary beneficiaries or tax dependants are alive which are named, upon the death of the member, the Trustees must pay the balance of the deceased member to non-dependants as a lump sum.
200. If a death benefit has to be paid to a non-dependant beneficiary of a deceased member who was withdrawing a pension, upon the death of the member, if the assets of the fund cannot be transferred to the non-dependant beneficiary due to withholding tax requirements or otherwise, the Trustee must sell some assets, as soon as practical, to pay the withhold tax. The Trustee must ensure that the assets supporting the deceased member's pension remain in retirement phase until such time the benefit of the member is paid out to the non-dependant beneficiary as a lump sum.

XIII. Variation of Deed

201. The trustee may, from time to time, vary the terms of this deed, by a deed of variation executed by the trustee. The deed of variation may add a clause to or delete a clause or all clauses of this trust deed. Any clauses added to this deed will have the same validity and effect as if they had been originally contained in this trust deed.
202. The Trustee may not vary clause 4 of this deed unless the amendment complies with superannuation law specifically with SIS Act (Section 17A and 19) and if the amendment will reduce the balance of any member of the fund or rights of any member or accrued entitlements that existed before the variation unless:
- such a reduction is allowed by law and is agreed to in writing by the affected member(s);
 - cause the fund to lose its complying status, in which case the Trustee must amend the deed to the extent necessary to keep the fund complying with legislation and the regulator must approve the reduction of rights of any member.

203. If the deed is varied, the trustee must give notice to all members of the fund in accordance with superannuation law and advise members of the nature and purpose of any variation the trustee seeks to make and any detrimental effect of the amendment on members' entitlements or rights or the balance of their account.

The trustee must communicate, via a notice of variation of the deed to all members in the prescribed format and give all members a copy of the updated trust deed.

204. Once the deed has been varied, the Trustee must, in order to give effect to the variation, organise stamping of the updated deed if required by State law of the state where the Trustee resides and pay stamp duty of the prescribed amount, if required by the laws of that State. All expenses of the variation of deed may be met by funds of the superannuation fund.

IVX. Winding up of fund

205. The Trustee must wind up the fund if the fund has no members or if all the members agree in writing to wind up the fund, or when superannuation law requires the fund to be wound up.
206. The Trustees must before winding up the fund:
- dispose of all the assets of the fund to pay members benefits;
 - close the income account and reserve account and transfer the balance to the members accounts as prescribed in superannuation law;
 - pay all expenses and taxes of the fund;
 - lodge the last income tax return and regulatory return of the fund and pay whatever expenses are due to creditors and professionals engaged;
 - pay all benefits to the members or transfer and / or roll over member's entitlements to another complying fund as prescribed in superannuation law; and
 - notify the regulator that the fund is wound up.
207. In the case of death of the last member, the Trustee must pay any benefit in such a manner as they feel is equitable having regard to that member's indicative death nomination. In the case of a binding death nomination, however, the Trustee must follow the instructions of the member. If there are no dependants or known beneficiaries the Trustee is required to follow the superannuation law relating to unclaimed monies.

XV. Miscellaneous

208. The Trustee(s) must collect tax file numbers from all existing and new members. If a member does not provide Trustee(s) with their tax file number, the Trustees must, on all contributions, which the fund receives on behalf of the member over $1,000, pay tax to the regulator at the highest tax rate that applies to individuals plus Medicare Levy.
209. The Trustee may provide information to certain government bodies to asset test an income stream for any benefits available to a member under the Social Security Act 1991 (Cth).
210. The Trustee must hand over their contact details to all members and establish a system to communicate with members, beneficiaries and their dependants.

Introduction

The Trustee recommends that all members should get their own legal and financial advice from a qualified financial advisor before joining this self managed superannuation fund or to begin making contributions to this fund. All members must obtain advice on their own suitability to join this fund, taking into account your financial situation, retirement needs and investment objectives. This Product Disclosure Statement ("PDS") should not be taken as a recommendation to you to join this fund.

This PDS explains to members and employers the impact of joining this superannuation fund and the risks and costs associated with this fund. This PDS also explains significant features and how you can take your super as a lump sum and/or as a pension, how this fund is taxed and issues that are taken into account before you decide to invest in this superannuation fund.

This PDS includes all amendments to superannuation law up to 1 June 2018 (Version 18/1) including the Superannuation Bill Treasury Laws Amendment (fair & Sustainable superannuation) Bill of 2016, Treasury Laws Amendment (2017 Measures No. 2) Bill 2017 & Treasury Laws Amendment (Reducing Pressure on Housing Affordability Measures No. 1) Act 2017. This PDS is simply a summary of some of the more significant features of this Fund and your super lump sum pension benefits. However, it is not a complete and exhaustive statement. If there is a conflict between the PDS and the Rules and the Superannuation Law, the Rules and Superannuation Law will prevail over the PDS.

What is a Self Managed Superannuation Fund?

1. The Superannuation Industry (Supervision) Act 1993 (Cth) ("SIS Act") section 17A and the Superannuation Industry (Supervision) Regulations 1994 (Cth) ("SIS Regulations") define a self managed superannuation fund. A self managed super fund ("SMSF") is constituted by a trust deed. SMSFs hold contributions and roll over's made to the fund for the benefit of the members in trust for the members until the members retire from employment or are permanently unable to work due to disablement. Once the fund is set up the trustees must make an irrevocable election for it to be a regulated superannuation fund under the SIS Act and Regulations. Trustees under this deed are allowed to hold cash contribution at the time of establishment before it is banked in the SMSF bank account so that they can apply for an Australian Business Number with ATO.

In case of the death of a member, the benefits are held for beneficiaries of the member and can be paid as a lump sum or as a pension. If the SMSF complies with the SIS Act and the SIS Regulations it receives concessional tax treatment under income tax legislation, where the income of the fund is taxed at a lower rate (currently 15%). The members can become Trustees of the fund or they can form a corporation under the Corporations Act to act as Trustee of the SMSF.

2. The trust deed of a SMSF sets out the governing rules of the fund. Section 17A defines a SMSF; broadly, a superannuation fund is a SMSF if it meets the following conditions:

- has fewer than 5 members; however the government has announced that they will allow up to 6 members in a fund
- each individual Trustee of the fund is a fund member;
- each member of the fund is a Trustee;
- no member of the fund is an employee of another member of the fund, unless those members are related;
- no Trustee of the fund receives any remuneration for his or her services as a Trustee.

A SMSF can also have a company as a Trustee (i.e. a corporate Trustee) if:

- the fund has fewer than 5 members;
- each director of the Trustee company is a member of the fund;
- each member of the fund is a director of the Trustee company;
- no member is an employee of another member (unless related); and
- the Trustee does not receive remuneration for their services as a Trustee.

3. Superannuation funds are created for a sole purpose and ancillary purpose. Each Trustee of a regulated superannuation fund must ensure that the fund is maintained for a sole purpose which is broken down to a core purpose and ancillary purposes. Which generally is to fund the retirement years of each member and in case of death support dependents.

4. The Fund provides superannuation in the form of accumulation benefits which can be taken either as: as lump sums; or as account based pension benefits. From 1 July 2007 new account based pension or an allocated pensions, non-commutable allocated pensions ("AP"), market linked pensions ("MLP") and non-commutable market-linked pensions (market-linked pensions are also called term allocated pensions ("TAP")); or any combination of lump sums and account-based pensions may be paid. All MLP, TAP, Allocated pension or existing complying, flexi, life time etc pensions can be paid by a SMSF but can no longer be commenced from a SMSF, only account based pensions can commence from this SMSF.

5. There are substantial civil and criminal penalties consequences of contravening, or of being involved in a contravention of, not maintaining the sole purpose test. The Trustees must inform the regulator within 21 days from ceasing to be a SMSF.

6. The Australian Taxation Office (“ATO”) together with the Australian Prudential Regulation Authority (“APRA”) regulate superannuation funds. For a current copy of the SIS Act and Regulations please visit www.apra.gov.au

7. The requirement that all members be Trustees ensures that each member is fully involved and has the opportunity to participate in the decision-making processes of the fund. This promotes true self-management. The ATO regulates superannuation funds that meet the definition of an SMSF.

Advantages of setting up a self managed superannuation fund

8. Some of the advantages of operating a superannuation fund are:

- individuals can have greater investment freedom;
- individuals feel their monies are safer if invested by them as Trustees;
- members are able to chose the investment portfolio
- members can actively participate in the management of the fund;
- there are reduced formal reporting requirements;
- members can choose a retirement strategy, that is custom made for them
- take advantage of Transition to Retirement Pensions if not available by their superannuation fund;
- own business real property of own business with or without borrowing; control the timing of paying income tax on income of the fund; transfer In-specie contributions to the SMSF; and
- invest in direct property with or without borrowing.

However, setting up a SMSF is not for everyone. Individuals considering setting up a self managed superannuation fund should familiarize themselves with the requirements of running a fund. It is also prudent to discuss this option with a professional adviser (e.g. an accountant, financial planner etc) before taking the next step.

Key responsibilities of Trustees

9. A Trustee of a SMSF must act in accordance with:

- the provisions of the SIS Act;
- the clauses of the superannuation fund trust deed; and
- other general rules, for example, those imposed under tax law and trust law.

10. The SIS Act contains covenants or rules that impose certain requirements on Trustees these covenants are included in the trust deed of every regulated fund. These covenants reflect the duties imposed on a Trustee under trust law in general. They require Trustees to:

- act honestly in all matters;
- exercise the same degree of care, skill and diligence as an ordinary prudent person;
- act in the best interest of the fund members;
- keep the assets of the fund separate from other assets (e.g. the Trustee’s personal assets);
- retain control over the fund;
- develop and implement an investment strategy; and
- allow members access to certain information.

11. Whilst Trustees are not prevented from engaging or authorizing other persons to do certain acts or things on their behalf (e.g. engaging the services of an investment adviser), they are bound to retain control over the fund. Ultimate responsibility and accountability for running the fund in a prudent manner lies with the Trustees. Trustees must lodge an Annual Return with the ATO every year.

12. Trustees of the fund must keep money and other assets of the superannuation fund separate from their own personal assets. Similarly, the assets of the superannuation fund must also be kept separate from those belonging to a business (e.g. a business run by two partners who decide to set up an SMSF). Money belonging to the fund must not, under any circumstance, be used for personal or business purposes. This money is for retirement purposes and generally cannot be accessed until retirement. The fund’s assets must not be viewed as a form of credit or emergency reserve when faced with a sudden need.

13. The Trustee decides the suitability of investments. In making investment decisions the Trustees must act in accordance with the fund’s trust deed, investment strategy and the provisions of SIS Act. Some of the more important issues to consider when investing a SMSF’s assets include the formulation of an appropriate investment strategy and investment restrictions.

14. The Trustee must establish investment strategies in writing, setting out how fund assets are to be invested, and may make a broad range of investments only in accordance with this strategy. The strategies may be altered by the Trustee, so long as they remain appropriate.

15. SIS Act sets out various rules and restrictions on investments. These include: lending to members and their relatives, acquiring assets from 'related parties' of the fund, borrowing, in-house assets; and making and maintaining investments on an 'arms length' basis.

16. Trustees are also responsible for the fund's 'housekeeping' including complying with record keeping requirements (such as minutes, books and financial records); preparing and lodging annual returns with the ATO; and getting the fund's accounts audited annually.

17. If a Trustee fails to act in accordance with the rules and obligations imposed on them, the Trustee may be sued by affected fund members and/or may jeopardize a fund's eligibility for tax concessions. In addition, the SIS Act imposes substantial penalties on Trustees who have failed to carry out their duties. Trustees can be directed by ATO to make changes or an education directive, where the trustee has to learn how a SMSF has to be operated. The above does not provide an exhaustive coverage of responsibilities of Trustees.

Many more obligations are imposed on Trustees under different laws including numerous administrative penalties which have to be paid by them personally. Trustees need to be familiar with superannuation law and when in doubt about these requirements, professional advice should be sought. For more information please refer to www.ato.gov.au/super.

Costs of operating a SMSF

18. Annual compliance costs can be broken down to accounting, audit and income tax return preparation and lodgement. Trustees can employ professionals to take over some of the functions however audit has to be conducted by a qualified auditor.

19. Due to recent changes in legislation, Trustees may also need to incur legal fees in keeping their trust deed up to date with the SIS Act.

20. The Trustees may incur investment costs by employing a financial planner in helping them to formulate an investment strategy. Trustees may also incur costs in implementing the fund's investment strategy like share broker costs or if purchasing a property, stamp duty and associated legal costs.

21. Trustees while employing accountants should be aware that the SIS Act is a complex Act and changes frequently. Hence, employing a non-specialist accountant can mean that the advisor may give wrong or no advice, in any case the ultimate responsibility of the fund rests with the Trustees of the fund. From 1st July 2016, law regarding who can give advice to SMSF Trustees is changed; Trustees must ensure that they receive advice from suitably qualified & licensed advisor.

Income Tax & Other Costs

22. A SMSF is taxed on its investment income, realised capital gains and on the concessional (deductible) contributions made by the member or employer or some other person. However, a SMSF is entitled to claim deductions while earning its income, including the cost of certain life insurance for its members. There is no income tax to be paid on non-concessional (un deductible) contributions, or contributions for a spouse or for a child. If an investment is held for more than one calendar year, the fund is entitled to reduction of the capital gain. This reduction is currently one third of the gain. A SMSF may reduce the amount of tax payable through its entitlement to income tax credits it receives (e.g. franking credits arising from franked dividends). Currently the tax rate that applies to SMSFs is 15% on its taxable income.

If you contribute over the non-concessional cap amount, your fund will pay more tax. If excess tax is paid for over the non-concessional contributions cap, the tax on these contributions will be levied on the member and the member may transfer the tax liability to the fund which will pay the liability and debit the member's account balance. A SMSF does not pay any income tax on investment income and realised capital gains that arise from assets which are used to support the payment of all types of pensions to members. However, from 1st July 2017 only the transfer balance cap (2017 / 18 the TBC is $1.6M) amount can be in retirement phase and benefit tax exemption.

23. Any special income of the SMSF such as private company distributions, non arm's-length income and trust distributions is taxed at the highest individual tax rate plus medicare levy.

24. As a member you may request the Trustee to obtain risk insurance covers on your life so that if you should: die, become totally and permanently disabled; then an insurance benefit will be paid to you or your dependants. The amount of insurance required and the cost of this insurance and the terms upon which insurance benefits will be paid will be advised to you by the Trustee.

In the case of death or total and permanent disablement, the insurance benefit is usually a lump sum that will be added to your account. Usually, In the case of total and temporary disablement, the insurance benefit is generally a monthly payment from the insurance company replacing in part or whole your income earning capacity for the period you are totally and temporary disabled.

25. The costs of administering your SMSF will affect the net after cost returns of your SMSF. Members of a SMSF must ensure that there are enough funds to warrant commencement of a SMSF as compliance costs can be significant as compared to public offer funds. Members must consider all costs as well as a possible comparable returns to members before deciding to set up SMSF. If costs are higher than income, the negative returns will reduce members' account balance.

26. Your SMSF needs to be set up correctly so that it is eligible for tax concessions and can receive contributions and can be administered. The ATO has provided information and videos on

- Thinking about self-managed super or Setting up a SMSF
- Contributions and rollovers & Investing
- Paying benefits or Winding up
- Administering and reporting requirements and SMSF auditors

This information can be accessed by visiting ATO website <https://www.ato.gov.au/Super/Self-managed-super-funds/>

Accumulation Benefits

27. Every member has an account in a SMSF. If the member is being paid a pension and is also contributing to the fund, the member can have an accumulation account and a pension account. All accounts work like accumulation account - money can go in an account and monies can come out of the account. Concessional and non-concessional contributions and earnings of the fund are credited to the account and relevant expenses, insurance and taxes are debited to the account. Your total superannuation balance in the fund is the balance of the opening balance and the result of the activities during the year. The superfund balance can be used only for sole purpose as explained above and not withdrawn before certain events.

28. Your spouse can also make a contribution for you. Your spouse will get a tax rebate if your income is low. The amount of the rebate is dependent on the contribution made by your spouse and your assessable income.

29. Children under the age of 18 can also become members of a SMSF. Any person can make a contribution of up to $3,000 in each 3 year period for a child member.

30. A Trustee can also have a reserve account for members. This account is not for any specific member. Proceeds from this reserve account may be used as prescribed in SIS Act. A reserve account is generally used to smooth the investment returns credited to member accounts over a period of time. The use of reserve account is only for members who are in accumulation phase, those members who move to retirement phase should ensure that they do not exceed their transfer balance cap amount as there are penalty rates of taxes imposed on the excess amounts.

31. The Government has introduced a policy, to provide superannuation contributions for low income earners. These contributions will be paid for you from the Government. The fund can receive contributions from a clearing house under the new super stream rules. Your fund can also receive co-contributions and low income superannuation contribution rebates from the Government.

If you want to contribute more than the concessional cap amount in June of any year and have it allocated to yourself in the next year, this deed provides an unallocated contribution reserve account. You have to ensure that you lodge advice form along with your annual return to the ATO to tell them that you have used a reserving strategy in a particular year.

If you are a high income earner (more than $250K of adjusted income), you will pay Division 293 tax of 15% in addition to normal 15% tax on concessional contributions to the fund. You can request the trustee of your SMSF to pay this excess tax.

Contributions

32 An SMSF can accept contributions that are made in respect of a member, from any person, for a member under the age of 65 years without any restrictions. Once the member is over 65 years old, the member must pass the work test before making any contribution other than downsizer contributions to this fund. Downsizer contribution up to a maximum amount of $300,000 can be made to superannuation funds by a member, irrespective to their total superannuation balance. You must be over 65 years old and the downsizer contributions must be made within 90 days from the proceeds of sale of your principal place of residence which is in Australia sold after 1 July 2018 (exchange date) which you or your spouse have owned for at least 10 years.

You cannot claim a tax deduction for downsizer contributions. If you plan to make downsizer contributions, you should ask the Trustee to provide you with the relevant form. Once you have made the contributions into the fund, the amount will be included in your total superannuation balance and Centrelink asset test rules for the purposes of determining your entitlement to the age-pension.

From 1 July 2018 you can request ATO to withdraw your voluntary contributions and associated earnings from this fund to buy your first home. You can voluntarily contribute a maximum of $15,000 each year up to a maximum of $30,000 under the First Home Super Saver Scheme (FHSSS). You should be at least 18 years old and should have never owned a home in Australia to be eligible under the FHSSS. When you are ready to buy your first home, you should ask the ATO to determine the maximum amount which can be released to you. The ATO will then issue a release authority to this fund and collect the money from the trustee of this fund and withhold PAYG withholding tax before releasing it to you. The amount released is included in your income, but you obtain a 30% tax offset. If you do not buy your home within 12 months (or such other longer time as the ATO allows) you will have to re-contribute the released amount back into the fund or you will be subject to 20% tax on the released amount.

33. A SMSF can accept contributions that are mandated employer contributions* on behalf of a member of any age. If the member has been gainfully employed on at least a part - time basis during the financial year in which the contributions are made; as employer contributions (except mandated employer contributions); or as member (self employed) contributions for a member who is between 65 years to 70 years. The “40 hour /30 day” test requires that the member has been gainfully employed for at least 40 hours during any 30 consecutive days within the financial year in which the contributions have been made.

34. A SMSF can accept contributions that are made in respect of the member that are mandated employer contributions; or if the member has been gainfully employed on at least a part - time basis during the financial year in which the contributions are made contributions received on or before the day that is 28 days after the end of the month in which the member turns 75 that are (i) employer contributions (except mandated employer contributions); or (ii) member (self employed) contributions made by the member who is between 70 to 75 years old.

35. Concessional contributions include: employer contributions (including contributions made under a salary sacrifice arrangement) personal contributions claimed as a tax deduction. If you have more than one fund, all concessional contributions made to all your funds are added together and counted towards the cap. Concessional contributions general cap is $25,000 for 2017/18 year.

36. From 1 July 2007 a SMSF must not accept any non-concessional contributions (un-deducted) if the member’s tax file number has not been quoted (for superannuation purposes) to the Trustee of the fund.

37. A SMSF must not accept any fund-capped non-concessional contributions in a financial year in respect of a member that exceed:

- a. if a member is 64 years or less from 1 July 2017 in a financial year – four times the amount of the concessional contributions cap (for 2017/18 $25,000); $100,000 or the bring forward of next two years which equals to $300,000.
- b) if the member is 65 years but less than 75 years on 1st July in any financial year – the non-concessional contributions cap which is $100,000 provided the member is gainfully employed.

If your total superannuation balance is above the transfer balance cap amount, you can no longer contribute to any fund.

38. If the fund receives any non-concessional contribution inconsistent with the above rules, the SMSF must return the amount to the member within 30 days of becoming aware that the amount was received in a manner that was inconsistent with the above rules.

39. The Trustee may accept a contribution splitting request from a spouse to split 85% of all concessional (deductible) received from 1 January 2006. Any splitting with spouse can only take place for contributions made in the preceding financial year.

40. A member who is employed or self-employed, can make their own contributions; and these contributions are likely to be deductible provided the member files with the Trustee a suitable declaration. 100% of all contributions are deductible to the concessional cap limit from 1st July 2017.

41. Employers can claim a deduction for any amount of concessional contribution for their employees, similarly a member can claim a deduction for any amount of concessional contributions for themselves. Contributions made by an employer for an employee who is a member of a complying fund will be fully tax deductible, even if the amount of the contributions exceeds the $25,000 (2017/ 18 financial year) concessional contribution cap limit. However any excess concessional contributions are tested against the non-concessional cap amount. Any excess concessional contributions received by the superannuation fund will be added in the member’s taxable income and taxed at their marginal tax rate plus the Medicare Levy. The member may withdraw 85% of any contributions above the cap amount from super.

When can I access my super benefit?

42. You can access your superannuation benefits in full when: you attain age 65; or you have attained age 60 and you subsequently cease gainful employment; you have attained your preservation age but not attained age 60; or if you have reached your preservation age (for 2017/18 - 57 Years) the Trustee is reasonably satisfied that you intend never to again be gainfully employed or you have become permanently incapacitated; or you are terminally ill and the trustee after consulting two doctors decides to pay you.

Your benefit can be paid as a lump sum or as a pension or as a mixture of both. You must not confuse obtaining a pension from your SMSF with obtaining age pension from the government. Even if you are receiving a pension from your SMSF, you could be eligible for age pension at your normal pension age* for age pension depending on asset and income tests.

43. You can also access your superannuation benefit as a transition to retirement pension after attaining your preservation age (not ceased gainful employment), so long as your benefit is paid as a non-commutable account based pension and the maximum you withdraw each year is 10% of the balance as on 1st July each year.

44. You may also be able to access all or part of your benefit when:

- you cease to be gainfully employed with an employer who contributed to the Fund; and you are in severe financial hardship;
 - there are compassionate grounds to access your benefit
- and the ATO/APRA/ Regulator has authorised the payment.

45. On retirement, you may be entitled to a lump sum benefit that is equal to whatever amount is in your accumulation account at that time. You may be entitled to a payment of a pension or annuity if you become totally and temporarily disabled, where the pension or annuity represents the amount:

- that the Trustee decides on, as long as the amount is within superannuation law; or
- any amount that is payable to the Trustee under any insurance policy arranged and purchased by the Trustee which covers that disability.

46. Pension benefits received by members will be taxed in the following manner:

- if paid as a lump sum or a pension to a member aged 60 or more - tax free;
- if paid as a lump sum to a member will be split into an exempt component (which will be tax free) and a taxable component (which will be taxed at 30% if aged under 57 and taxed at 15% if aged between 57 and 59; any lump sums received between age 57 and 59, the member will be entitled to low rate threshold (first $200,000 for 2017/18) as tax free and balance taxed at 15% if paid from a taxed source (only some government payments are from untaxed source).

47. If a pension paid to a member between the age of preservation age and 59 the tax rate will be the marginal tax rate of the member, however the pensioner will be able to claim tax free component and will be entitled to a 15% tax rebate on the full amount.

48. If you die, all other Trustees must appoint your legal personal representative (LPR) with giving immediate proper notice to the ATO and no death benefit payments will be made till the LPR is lawfully appointed and if you lose mental capacity your LPR or enduring power of attorney will become Trustee of the fund automatically and you will no longer be a Trustee.

49. Assets supporting a pension do not pay any tax on income up to the transfer balance cap amount (2017/18 TBC is $1.6M). Pension assets can no longer be segregated and must be mixed with non-pension assets. Trustee must appoint an actuary who must provide a percentage of income which will be claimed as exempt pension income deduction. If minimum pension amount is not withdrawn as per clause 50 below then the fund will be taken as not paying a pension in which case all the income of the fund will be taxable.

50. Once you start a pension or annuity, a minimum amount is required to be paid each year. There is no maximum amount other than the balance of your super account, unless it is a transition to retirement pension in which case the maximum amount is 10% of the account balance. Minimum pension is a multiple percentage factor depending on the age of the pensioner on the balance of the pensioner on 1st July each financial year and these percentage factors are as follows:

| Item | Age of Beneficiary | Percentage factor |
|------|--------------------|-------------------|
| 1 | Under 65 | 4 |
| 2 | 65 - 74 | 5 |
| 3 | 75 - 79 | 6 |
| 4 | 80 - 84 | 7 |
| 5 | 85 - 89 | 9 |
| 6 | 90 - 94 | 11 |
| 7 | 95 or more | 14 |

51. The term of the pension is: for allocated pensions - usually your life expectancy (or if the pension is reversionary, the life expectancy of you or the reversionary pensioner - whichever is the greater; and for market-linked pensions - the number of years over which the pension must be paid. This can either be the life expectancy of the pensioner or plus 5 years or 100 years or if the pension is reversionary to the spouse then if the spouse is younger than life expectancy of the spouse or plus 5 years. You cannot commence these pensions after 20th September 2007 from a self managed super fund.

52. For all deductible contributions made on or after 1 July 2005 by an employer or a member, the superannuation's contributions surcharge has been abolished. However, contributions preceding that date still attract surcharge.

What happens to my super in case of my death?

53. In the event of your death, the Trustee may pay the balance of your fund as a death benefit to your dependants, or else, pay to the persons that are named in your "death benefit beneficiary nomination" included on your application for membership.

This may be paid as a lump sum benefit out of your accumulation account or as a pension or a combination of both. If there is no nomination in place, then the trustee must pay the benefit to the legal personal representative or next of kin or to the person responsible for your estate.

54. If the Trustee has taken out a life insurance policy for you, your dependants or other persons may also be entitled to a lump sum death benefit under that policy. The Trustee will collect the proceeds of this policy before paying the death benefit as listed above. Under the new restriction under SIS Regulation 4.07D only those policies can be taken out that are consistent with the conditions of release, hence before you purchase a policy for your super fund, you must first check if it is allowed to be paid by your SMSF.

55. Death benefits paid out of a super fund will remain concessional taxed. All lump sum payments to a dependant (as defined in the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936) are tax free.

56. Lump sum payments to someone who is a non-dependant (as defined in the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936) but a dependant for SIS Act purposes will have the taxable component of the death benefits taxed at 15% plus the Medicare Levy.

57. In the event of death of a member who was on a pension, any reversionary pension paid will be tax-free if the original beneficiary was 60 years or over. If the original beneficiary was less than 60, then if the reversionary beneficiary is 60 years or over, the reversionary pension received by the beneficiary will be tax free, however if the beneficiary is less than 60 years, the pension shall be taxed at his or her own marginal tax rate until he or she turns 60, when the pension becomes tax free. If you do not have any dependants who can be reversionary beneficiaries, then you can nominate any non dependant to receive your death benefit, only as a lump sum, in the form called non-lapsing binding death nomination form.

58. In event of death of a member who was on a pension, reversionary pensions can only be paid to a dependant (as defined in the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936) of the original beneficiary. Reversionary pension credit the transfer balance cap of the beneficiary, hence it is possible that on death of the member, any pension being paid to the beneficiary may exceed the balance transfer cap of the beneficiary. The beneficiary in that case will commute some of their pension to accumulation or their pension or the deceased pension as a lump sum out of the superannuation system.

59. You can give Trustee instructions, on how your death benefit needs to be paid. These instructions must be on "binding death nomination form". Any instructions on the non-binding death nomination form may be considered by the Trustee, but is not bound, by your instructions. These instructions can be non-lapsing or be time bound, say for three years.

60. If you are on pension and get divorced, you have the ability to change reversionary beneficiary of your pension, without commuting your pension and starting a new pension with the new reversionary beneficiary. If a child is your dependant, you can nominate your child as reversionary beneficiary to receive death benefit pension in case of your death.

61. On death of the member, lump sum benefits of the member can be paid by the trustee to non-dependants in cash or in assets of the fund transferred to the non-dependant at market value.

Information about risks associated with the fund

62. The significant risks which a member must consider before joining this fund, include the following:

- the Trustee may not invest the funds wisely, resulting in negative realised and unrealised gains;
- the fund may cease to be a complying superannuation fund either because of any action or inaction of the Trustees. For example, the fund can become a non-complying fund as the Trustees may not be a resident of Australia and / or breaches the SIS Act or the SIS Regulations;
- future government policies may remove the current tax treatment of all SMSF. This may adversely affect the future planning of prospective member;
- by mistake the Trustee may pay less than the minimum amount of pension, resulting in the fund to be a tax paying fund instead of a tax exempt pension fund. Please note that there is no maximum amount that can be paid to a pensioner.
- as Trustee of the fund, you are responsible for maintaining the accounts, books and minutes and if are not a meticulous person, you may not be able to devote sufficient time to properly administer the fund;
- since a SMSF is an audited entity, if you are not a pedantic person, who would keep all the documents safely for a successful audit, the auditor may issue a qualifying report;
- you may not keep your trust deed up to date or conduct activities (such as trading in futures) which are not allowed by your trust deed or SIS Act, this will result in your SMSF being non-complying fund and lose all tax concessions.

Providing your Tax File Number to Trustees

63. AS per SIS Act, Trustees of this fund may request you to supply your tax file number to them. You are not obliged by law to provide your tax file number to them, however you may pay higher tax if you do not supply your tax file number, in some cases, Trustees cannot accept contributions for you, if you have not supplied your tax file number.

Super Funds can borrow - We strongly recommend specific legal advice

64. Sec 67A & 67B of SIS Act - new exemption on borrowing - limited recourse borrowing arrangement. This subsection talks about a "borrowing structure" which has to be in place for an exempted borrowing as per section 67(1) of SIS Act. The borrowing structure should have the following characteristics;

- The money is used to purchase a new asset,
- The asset is held in trust so that the SMSF acquires a beneficial interest,
- The SMSF has a right to acquire ownership of the asset by making instalment payments, this must be a right and not an obligation,
- In case of default, the rights of the lender are limited against only the asset financed.

This type of borrowing is a synthetic product although this trust deed allows this type of borrowing, Trustees may require attention to their current investment strategy and risk management strategy which may need to be formulated and implemented.

These rules were amended on 7th July 2010 and as per the new rules:

- A member can lend to his SMSF on commercial terms - if any term is more favourable than market conditions, then any income generated from these borrowings can result in special income being earned by the fund - which is taxed at the highest individual tax rate;
- A SMSF can purchase any asset including real estate. However, you cannot sell residential property to your SMSF and no associates can live in a residential property owned by the SMSF etc.
- Members may give personal guarantee over assets owned by them - this will give additional security to the lender. This personal guarantee may erode the non-recourse nature of the loan and the regulator has issued a tax alert on this issue - however as long as other assets of the SMSF are protected from default, the loan arrangement should satisfy the SIS Act Section 67A & 67B conditions.
- You should amend your investment strategy at the time of borrowing to ensure there is enough cash flow to pay pensions to members.

Members must remember that in any case - if rental / dividend income is not sufficient to meet interest costs, any shortfall has to be funded by other income of the super fund or by new contributions by the members. We recommend that members take financial advice before getting involved with instalment warrants transactions within a Self managed super fund.
