Should any such Alternate Binding Nominee not survive the Member or, for any reason, not be able to take the benefit under the nomination then the Trustee may make payment of Benefits on the Member's death to the Member's estate or to such other person(s) so permitted under the Superannuation Requirements..

16. DEATH BENEFITS AND NON-BINDING NOMINATIONS

- 16.1 A Member may provide the Trustee with a non-binding written nomination in the form set out at Schedule D or in such other form as is prescribed or is accepted by the Trustee, stating how the Member wishes the Trustee to pay Benefits arising on the death of the Member among the person or persons specified in the notice, being the Legal Personal Representative and/or the Dependants of the Member or Beneficiary.
- 16.2 Where the Member has not made a binding nomination under the Superannuation Requirements, the Trustee may make any determination relating to the type, amount and proportions of different components in any Benefit and pay a Member's Benefit on the Member's death to:

- 16.4 A Member may by notice in writing given to the Trustee at any time revoke a Non-Binding Death Benefit Notice.
- 16.5 A Member may at any time give the Trustee a subsequent Non-Binding Death Benefit Notice and the receipt of such subsequent notice shall revoke a prior notice given to the Trustee.

SCHEDULE C

FORM OF NOMINATION BINDING DEATH BENEFIT NOMINATIONS FOR CLAUSE 15

Information about binding directions

The operation of the Fund, of which you are a Member or are being invited to be a Member, is governed by a document called a Trust Deed. The Trustee of the Fund is bound to act in accordance with the requirements of the Trust Deed in administering the Fund.

Under the Trust Deed, the Trustee has a discretion to decide whether, in the event of your death, to pay the death benefit which is payable, to your estate or to dependants of yours, and, in what proportions. The Trustee also has the discretion to transfer specific assets of the Fund to your estate or dependants in lieu of a monetary amount.

However, the Trust Deed also enables you to override the Trustee's discretion by you giving a binding direction to the Trustee. This is a direction to the Trustee to pay any death benefit payable either to your estate or to dependants specified by you and in the proportions that you specify.

You may either elect for the Trustee to exercise the discretion given to it to decide who to pay your benefit to, in the event of your death, or you can give a binding direction to the Trustee by completing the direction(s) in this Nomination. Your direction can specify to whom your death benefit is to be paid or transferred to in the first instance (your Binding Nominees) as well as to whom it is to be paid or transferred to in the event that your Binding Nominee(s) have predeceased you (your Alternate Binding Nominee(s)).

Important points about binding directions

If you decide to give a binding direction by completing this Nomination, it is important for you to note the following:

1. You can only direct the Trustee to pay the benefit either to your estate or to the dependants that you specify on this Nomination (or both).

2. If you wish to give such a direction to the Trustee, you must specify the percentage of your total death benefit or specific asset or assets which are to be paid or transferred to each of the estate or your dependants.
3. You can confirm, amend or revoke this Nomination at any time by giving written notice to the Trustee.
4. If, on this Nomination, you direct the Trustee to pay or transfer any part of your death benefit to a person who is not a dependant (as described below), your direction will be void and of no effect and the Trustee will be required to decide who to pay your death benefit to.
5. For the purposes of the Trust Deed, a dependant is
 - a spouse of a Member
 - any children of a Member
 - a person in an Interdependency Relationship with you (as explained below)
 - any other person (whether related to the Member or not) who is financially dependent on the Member

“Spouse” includes a de facto spouse and “children” includes step-children, adopted and ex-nuptial children.

Under the Superannuation Industry (Supervision) Act 1993 and Regulations, two persons, whether or not they are related by family, will have an Interdependency Relationship if:

- (a) they have a close personal relationship; and
- (b) they live together; and
- (c) one or each of them provides the other with financial support; and
- (d) one or each of them provides the other with domestic support and personal care.

If two persons have a close personal relationship but do not satisfy the other requirements mentioned because either or both of them suffer from a physical, intellectual or psychiatric disability, they still have an Interdependency Relationship.

The Superannuation Industry (Supervision) Regulations also may specify matters that are or are not to be taken into account in determining whether two persons have an Interdependency Relationship and the circumstances in which two persons have or do not have such a relationship. If you believe the provisions relating to Interdependency Relationships might be applicable in your circumstances, we suggest you seek appropriate legal advice.

Generally, if you have any doubt as to whether a person you wish to nominate to receive any part of your death benefit is a dependant, you should seek legal advice before completing this Nomination.

6. For this Nomination to be effective, it must be signed and dated by you in the presence of 2 witnesses who are both at least 18 years old and neither of the witnesses can be a person who you have nominated to receive a part of your death benefit.

Self-managed super fund trustee declaration

I understand that as an individual trustee or director of the corporate trustee of

Fund name:

am responsible for ensuring that the fund complies with the Superannuation Industry (Supervision) Act 1993 (SISA) and other relevant legislation. The Commissioner of Taxation, the Commissioner, has the authority and responsibility for administering the legislation and enforcing the fund's compliance with the law.

I must read myself informed of changes to the legislation relevant to the operation of my fund and ensure the trust deed is kept up to date in accordance with the law and the needs of the members.

In addition, with the legislation, the Commissioner may take the following actions:

- impose administrative penalties on me
- enter into agreements with me to rectify any contraventions of the legislation
- disqualify me from being a trustee or director of a superannuation fund in the future
- remove the fund's complying status, which may result in significant adverse tax consequences for the fund
- prosecute me under the law, which may result in fines or imprisonment.

SOLE PURPOSE

I understand it is my responsibility to ensure the fund is only maintained for the purpose of providing benefits to the members upon their retirement or attainment of a certain age, or their beneficiaries if a member dies. I understand that I should regularly evaluate whether the fund continues to be the appropriate vehicle to meet this purpose.

TRUSTEE DUTIES

I understand that as my trustee I must:

- read, interpret and act on matters concerning the fund
- exercise skill, care and diligence in managing the fund
- act in the best interests of all the members of the fund
- ensure that members only access their super benefits in the way that a legitimate variation or release permit from entering into transactions that prohibit restrictions on the payment of benefits
- ensure that funds, money and other assets are held separately from the other assets of the fund
- take appropriate action to protect the fund's assets, for example, by obtaining evidence of the ownership of fund assets
- refrain from entering into any contract or doing anything that would prevent me from properly performing or exercising my functions or powers as a trustee or director of the corporate trustee of the fund
- inform members of the fund of any essential information and accounts as required by law and relevant contractual arrangements of the fund
- inform members of benefit and other entitlements
- ensure that I do not, in the course of my duties, incur any liability or financial obligation, being avoided at the circumstances of the fund, which include but are not limited to:
 - the fund's association with the fund's investments
 - the fund's investment management strategy, the fund's investment objectives and expenses, including any liability
 - investment interests and the fund's exposure to risk, assets, liabilities and other diversification
 - the impact of the fund's investments relating to the fund's expected near flow requirements in its paying its existing and future benefits, including benefit payments
 - whether the trustee of the fund should not make use of, or where the trustee may have, a trust deed.

Investment restrictions

I understand that as a trustee or director of the corporate trustee of the fund, I am subject to the following restrictions on the fund's investments:

- I cannot, in the course of providing financial advice, make a member of the fund or other person, except the fund's financial adviser or trustee, a trustee or director of the fund, or a person who is a parent, director or shareholder, including the provision of trust
- I cannot acquire assets other than business real property, listed securities, certain non-listed assets, and derivatives made by members and their spouses, dependent persons, or associates, as a result of a derivative or a restriction on the fund from members or other related parties of the fund
- I cannot, in the course of managing an existing commodity or derivative contract, enter into a similar commodity or derivative contract unless the following arrangements are permitted: they involve the same or similar contract terms and the contract terms are not breached.

SCHEDULE F

PRODUCT DISCLOSURE STATEMENT FOR SELF MANAGED SUPER FUNDS

The Corporation Act 2001 (Cth) requires trustees to provide a Product Disclosure Statement to all prospective Members of a self managed superannuation fund.

Attach this Product Disclosure Statement to each Member's application form.

MEMBER DETAILS

At the day of execution of this Deed the address of The Trustees is 101 Beaumont Street,
Hamilton NSW 2303

INTRODUCTION

The trustee recommends that all Members obtain your own financial advice from a qualified financial advisor before joining this self managed superannuation fund or begin making contributions to this fund. All Members must obtain advice on their own suitability to join this fund, taking into account your financial situation, retirement needs and investment objectives.

This Product Disclosure Statement (“PDS”) should not be taken as a recommendation to you to join this fund.

This PDS explains to Members the legal requirements of the SMSF, the impact of joining this superannuation fund and the risks and costs associated with this fund.

This PDS also explains how you can take your super as a lump sum and/or as a pension, how this fund is taxed and issues to take into account before you decide to invest in this superannuation fund.

This PDS first applies from 1 July 2011 and takes account of the Superannuation Requirements applicable at that date.

Please note this PDS is a summary of some of the more significant features of this Fund and your super lump sum and pension benefits. However, it is not a complete and exhaustive statement. If there is a conflict between this PDS and the Rules and/or the Superannuation Requirements, the Rules and more importantly the Superannuation Requirements will prevail over this PDS.

WHAT IS A SELF MANAGED SUPERANNUATION FUND

1. The Superannuation Industry (Supervision) Act 1993 (Cth) (“SIS Act”) section 17A and the Superannuation Industry (Supervision) Regulations 1994 (Cth) (“SIS Regulations”) define a self managed superannuation fund. A current copy of the SIS Act and Regulations is available on the government website.

A self managed super fund (“SMSF”) is constituted by a trust deed and essentially SMSF’s hold on trust the contributions and rollovers made to the fund for the benefit of its Members until the Members retire from gainful employment, they obtain preservation age, are permanently unable to work due to disablement or some other condition of release is triggered as defined in the rules, or alternatively for the benefit of the beneficiaries of the Member in the event of the death of a Member.

As a result of the compliance with the SIS Act and SIS Regulations the SMSF will receive concessional tax treatment under income tax legislation.

The Members may be individual trustees of the fund or they can form a corporation under the Corporations Act to act as trustee of the SMSF.

MEMBERSHIP OF THE FUND

2. A SMSF is required to meet the following conditions:

A SMSF with individual trustees as persons needs to ensure it;

- has fewer than 5 Members;
- each Member of the fund is a trustee;
- no Member of the fund is an employee of another Member of the fund, unless those Members are related;
- no trustee of the fund receives any remuneration for his or her services as a trustee.

A SMSF can also have a company as a trustee (i.e. a corporate trustee) if:

- the fund has fewer than 5 Members;
- each Member of the fund is a director of the company;
- no Member is an employee of another Member (unless related); and
- the trustee does not receive remuneration for their services as a trustee.

The requirement that all Members be trustees or directors of a corporate Trustee ensures that each Member is fully involved and has the opportunity to participate in the decision-making processes of the fund. This promotes true self-management.

SOLE PURPOSE TEST

3. Superannuation Funds must be created and maintained by the Trustees in accordance with the sole purpose test. Essentially this provides that the Funds purpose is to solely provide for the superannuation benefits of its Members.

The sole purpose test is divided into core and ancillary purposes. The SMSF fund, as a regulated Fund, must be maintained for at least one core purpose OR at least one core purpose and one or more ancillary purposes. It is unacceptable for a fund to be maintained for one or more ancillary purposes only.

Core purposes

An SMSF must be maintained for at least one of the following core purposes:

- paying benefits to Members on or after retirement from gainful employment
- paying benefits to Members when they have reached a prescribed age, or
- paying benefits to Members on the Member's death. (This may require the benefits being passed on to a Member's dependants or legal representative).

Ancillary purposes

Ancillary purposes for maintaining a fund are for the provision of benefits to Members in the following circumstances:

- termination of the Member's employment with an employer who, at any time, had made contributions to the fund for that Member
- cessation of employment due to ill-health (whether physical or mental)
- death of the Member after retirement where the benefits are paid to the Member's dependants or legal representative
- death of the Member after attaining a prescribed age where the benefits are paid to the Member's dependants or legal representative, and
- other ancillary purposes approved in writing by the Australian Prudential Regulation Authority, which may include financial hardship and/or on compassionate grounds.

BENEFIT PAYMENTS UNDER THE FUND

4. The Fund provides for superannuation in the form of accumulation benefits that may be paid once a Member satisfies a condition of release as imposed by the Superannuation Requirements, and can be taken either as, lump sums in cash or in specie, or pension benefits. From 1 July 2007 new account based pensions or allocated pensions, non-commutable allocated pensions ("AP"), market-linked pensions ("MLP") and non-commutable market-linked pensions (market-linked pensions are also called term allocated pensions ("TAP")); or any combination of lump sums and account-based pensions may be paid. All other pre-existing and complying flexi, life time etc pensions may be paid, if permitted under Superannuation requirements all pre-existing flexi, life time etc pensions may be paid by a SMSF but can no longer be commenced from a SMSF.

FAILURE TO COMPLY

5. There are substantial civil and criminal penalties that will apply in the event that Trustees or Members contravene, or are involved in a contravention of the Superannuation Requirements and in particular, not maintaining the sole purpose test.

The trustees must inform the Responsible Authority within 21 days from ceasing to be a SMSF.

REGULATOR

6. The Australian Taxation Office (“ATO”) the Australian Securities and Investment Commission (ASIC and the Australian Prudential Regulation Authority (“APRA”) regulates superannuation funds.

ADVANTAGES OF SETTING UP A SELF MANAGED SUPERANNUATION FUND

7. Some of the advantages of operating a self managed superannuation fund are:
 - individuals can have greater investment freedom;
 - individuals feel their moneys are safe if invested by them as trustees;
 - Members can participate in choosing the investment portfolio;
 - Members can actively participate in the management of the fund;
 - There are reduced formal reporting requirements;
 - Members can choose a retirement strategy custom made for them including influencing the timing of paying income tax on the income of the fund, Transfer In-specie contributions to the SMSF, and invest in direct property.

However, setting up a SMSF is not for everyone. Individuals considering setting up a self managed superannuation fund should familiarize themselves with the requirements of running a fund. It is also prudent to discuss this option with a professional adviser (e.g. a solicitor, accountant or financial planner) before taking the next step.

KEY RESPONSIBILITIES OF TRUSTEES

8. A trustee of a SMSF must act in accordance with:
 - the provisions of the SIS Act and regulations;
 - the Superannuation requirements as defined under the trust deed;
 - the Rules as set out under the trust deed; and
 - other relevant legislation and law.
9. The Australian Taxation Office (by the Commissioner of Taxation) is responsible for enforcing compliance by the fund. A declaration (“TRUSTEE DECLARATION”) is required to be completed for all new and existing trustees of a SMSF by the Australian Taxation. This declaration is required to be adhered to and completed by all new and existing trustees of a SMSF and is annexed as Schedule E of this Deed.

FURTHER OBLIGATIONS OF TRUSTEE

10. The above declaration does not necessarily provide an exhaustive coverage of all responsibilities of trustees for SMSF. Other obligations are imposed on trustees under different laws including the administrative requirements. Trustees need to be familiar with them and when in doubt about these requirements, professional advice should be sought.

COSTS OF OPERATING A SMSF

11. Annual compliance costs will apply to a SMSF and will include accounting, audit and income tax return preparation and lodgment. Trustees can employ professionals to administer some of these functions. The Audit must be conducted by a qualified auditor.
12. The SMSF may incur investment costs by employing a financial planner in helping them to formulate an investment strategy. Trustees may also incur costs in implementing the fund's investment strategy like share broker costs or if purchasing a property stamp duty and associated legal costs.
13. Trustees engaging accountants and advisors should be aware that the SIS Act is a complex Act and may change from time to time. It is imperative that the Trustees ensure that the professionals they retain have the skills and experience for the work.
14. A SMSF is generally taxed on its investment income, realised capital gains and on the concessional (deductible) contributions made by the Member, employer or some other person. However, a SMSF is entitled to claim deductions while earning its income, including the costs of certain life insurances, TPD and IP for its Members. There is no income tax paid on non-concessional (undeductible) contributions, or for spouse or child contributions.

Where an investment is held for more than one calendar year, the fund is entitled to reduction of the capital gain. This reduction is currently one third of the gross gain. A SMSF may reduce the amount of tax payable through its entitlement to income tax credits it receives (e.g. franking credits arising from franked dividends). Currently the tax rate that applies to SMSF is 15% on its taxable income.

A SMSF does not pay any income tax on investment income and realised capital gains that arise from assets which are used to support the payment of all types of pensions to Members.

If excess tax (highest marginal tax rate plus Medicare levy) is paid for over the cap concessional or non-concessional contributions, the tax on these contributions will be levied on the Member and the Member will transfer the tax liability to the fund which will pay the liability and debit the Member's account balance.

15. Any special income of the SMSF such as private company distributions, non arm's-length income and trust distributions is taxed at the rate of 45%.
16. As a Member you may request the trustee to obtain risk insurance cover so that in the event of your death or should you become totally and permanently disabled, or become totally and temporarily disabled, then an insurance benefit will be paid into your accumulation account in accordance with the relevant policy.
17. The costs of administering your SMSF will affect the net after cost returns of your SMSF.

ACCUMULATION BENEFITS

18. Each Member of the Fund may have one or more benefit account in a SMSF, for example: If the Member is being paid a pension and is also contributing to the fund, the Member may have an accumulation account and a pension account.

Concessional and non-concessional contributions and earnings of the fund are credited to the Members account and relevant expenses, insurance and taxes are debited to the account. Your Member's balance is the total of the opening balance and the result of the activities during the year.

The Member's balance can be used only for the sole purpose as set out in paragraph 3 above and not withdrawn before certain events.

19. Your spouse can also make a contribution for you. Your spouse may receive a tax rebate subject to an income test. The amount of rebate is dependent on the contribution made by your spouse and your assessable income.
20. Children under the age of 18 can become Members of a SMSF. Contributions may be made up to a prescribed amount (currently $3000) in each 3 year period.
21. A trustee can also maintain a reserve account. This account is not for any specific Member. Proceeds from this reserve account may be used as prescribed under the SIS

Act. This account may be used to smooth the investment returns credited to Member accounts over a period of time.

22. The Government has a co-contribution policy to provide superannuation contributions for low income earners which can also apply to self employed super Members. This provides for those persons with income below a prescribed amount and where the person makes a contribution of a prescribed amount to a complying fund from after tax income or non-concessional contributions then the government will contribute a prescribed sum which then tapers off as prescribed for income above, the prescribed amount to zero when the persons income reaches the ceiling amount.

The government contribution is not taxable to the SMSF and is treated as a non-concessional contribution if all the conditions imposed under the Co-Contribution scheme imposed by the government are met.

CONTRIBUTIONS

23. The two major categories of contributions are:
- (a) Mandated employer contributions

These are contributions made by an employer under a law or an industrial agreement for the benefit of a fund Member. They can include any of the following:

- super guarantee contributions
- super guarantee shortfall components
- award-related contributions
- some payments from the superannuation holding accounts (SHA) special account.

A SMSF can accept mandated employer contributions for Members at any time. This means you may accept mandated employer contributions for a person regardless of the age of the person or the number of hours they are working at that time.

- (b) Non-mandated contributions

These include voluntary super contributions such as the following:

- contributions made by employers over and above their Superannuation Guarantee (Administration) Act 1992 or award obligations
- personal contributions made by employees
- personal contributions made by self-employed people
- other personal contributions and spouse contributions.

24. A SMSF can only accept non-mandated contributions in the following circumstances:

- (a) For Members under 65 years of age, you can accept all types of contributions (within certain limits). However, you can only accept Member contributions if the Member's tax file number (TFN) has been quoted.
- (b) For Members aged 65 but less than 70, you may accept non-mandated contributions where
 - the Member is gainfully employed on at least a part-time basis
 - the Member has quoted their TFN.
- (c) For Members aged 70 but less than 75, A SMSF may accept non-mandated contributions where
 - the Member is gainfully employed on at least a part time basis
 - the Member has quoted their TFN, but you can only accept non-mandated employer contributions and Member contributions made by the Member

In both cases, the contribution needs to be received on or before the day that is 28 days after the end of the month that the Members turns 75.

- 25. SMSF must not accept any fund-capped non-concessional contributions in a financial year in respect of a Member that exceed the cap:

The non-concessional contributions cap is:

Income Year	Cap amount
2007/08	$150 000
2008/09	$150 000
2009/10	$150 000 *

* From 1 July 2009 – 6 times the concessional contributions cap for the year

If the trustees receive and retains a higher non-concessional amount, the Member will have to pay excess contribution tax at 31.5%

- 26. If the fund receives any contribution inconsistent with the above rules, the SMSF must return the amount to the Member within 30 days of becoming aware that the amount was received in a manner that was inconsistent with the above rules.
- 27. The trustee may accept a contribution splitting request from a spouse to split 85% of all concessional (deductible) received from 1 January 2006 and 100% of non-concessional (undeductible) contributions received from 1 January 2006 up to 5 April 2007. Any splitting with spouse can only take place for contributions made in the preceding financial year.

28. Where certain conditions are met all contributions are deductible to the concessional cap limit for both employers and personal superannuation contributions
29. Since 1 July 2007 there are no age based limits, employers can claim a deduction for any amount of contribution for their employees or the self employed for themselves. Contributions made by an employer for an employee who is a Member of a complying fund will be fully tax deductible, even if the amount of the contributions exceeds the concessional contribution limit. Caps are shown at 31(a)

Any excess concessional contributions received by the superannuation fund will be subject to excess contribution tax and taxed at 31.5%. The Member may transfer this tax liability to the fund which will pay the tax and debit the tax paid as an expense against the Member's superannuation account balance. (which is in addition to the funds normal tax liability)

30. From 1 July 2007, transitional rules apply for Members who are 50 years old as on 1 July 2007. Caps are shown at 31(b)

31. Contribution caps are:

- (a) Concessional

Income Year	Cap Amount
2007/08	$50 000
2008/09	$50 000
2009/10	$25 000
From 1 July 2010	$25 000
Then indexed in line with AWOTE in increments of $5000 rounded down

- (b) Transitional Concessional caps for persons aged 50 or more at 1 July 2007

Income Year	Cap Amount
2007/08	$100 000
2008/09	$100 000
2009/10	$50 000

2010/11	$50 000
2011/12	$50 000
From 1 July 2012	As for 31(a) subject to proposed legislation

ENTITLEMENT TO ACCESS YOUR SUPERANNUATION

32. You can access your superannuation benefits in full when:

- you attain age 65;
- you have attained age 60 and you and you subsequently cease gainful employment;
- you have attained your preservation age but not attained 60 and you have ceased gainful employment (whether before or after attaining your preservation age): and the trustee is reasonably satisfied that you intend never to again be gainfully employed: and
- you become permanently incapacitated

In which case, your benefit can be paid as a lump sum or as a pension or as a mixture of both.

33. You can also access all or part of your superannuation benefit after attaining your preservation age (whether or not you have ceased gainful employment), so long as your benefit is paid as a non- commutable allocated pension or as a non commutable market linked pension or an account based pension

34. You may also be able to access all or part of your benefit when:

- you cease to be gainfully employed with an employer who contributed to the Fund; and you are in severe financial hardship,
- there are compassionate grounds to access your benefit and the ATO/APRA Regulator has authorized the payment.

35. On retirement, you may be entitled to a lump sum benefit that is equal to whatever amount is in your accumulation account at that time.

36. You may be entitled to a payment of a pension or annuity if you become totally and temporarily disabled, where the pension or annuity represents the amount:

- that the trustee decides on, as long as the amount is within superannuation law; or

- any amount that is payable to the trustee under any insurance policy arranged and purchased by the trustee which covers that disability.

37. From 1 July 2007, benefits received by Members will be taxed in the following manner:

- if paid as a lump sum or a pension to a Member aged 60 or more – tax free;
- if paid as a lump sum to a Member will be split into an exempt component (which will be tax free) and a taxable component (which will be taxed at 20% if aged under 55 and taxed at 15% if aged between 55 and 59); any lump sums received between age 55 and 59, the Member will be entitled to have the first $140,000 low rate threshold as tax free and balance tax at 15% if paid from a taxed source (only some government payment are from untaxed source). The $140,000 threshold is indexed each year in increments of $5,000.
- if a pension paid to a Member between the age of (preservation age) and 59 the tax rate will be the marginal tax rate of the Member, however the pensioner will be able to claim tax free component and will be entitled to a 15% tax rebate on the full amount.

38. Member's account balance at 30 June 2007 (if any) will be divided into exempt and taxable portions.

The exempt portion will be equal to the sum of:

- Un-deducted contributions (i.e. contributions which were not tax deductible to the person making them) plus non-concessional contributions after 1 July 2007 plus non-concessional contributions made from the proceeds of a sale of a small business (within the limit which applies to this type of contribution) plus proceeds from a settlement for an injury resulting in permanent disablement plus pre-July 83 component, concessional component and post-June 1994 invalidity component.

The taxable portion will be the balance (mostly post-1983 component).

39. From 1 July 2007 the rebate does not apply to pension payments received before age 55 except where the pension is payable by reason of total and temporary or permanent disablement.

40. These are the preservation ages for fund Members:

Person	Preservation age
Person born before 1 July 1960	55 years
Person born during the year 1 July 1960 to 30 June 1961	56 years
Person born during the year 1 July 1961 to 30 June 1962	57 years
Person born during the year 1 July 1962 to 30 June 1963	58 years
Person born during the year 1 July 1963 to 30 June 1964	59 years
Person born after 30 June 1964	60 years

41. From 1 July 2007 Members are able to take “account based pensions”. The unique features of these pensions are that they have a minimum amount that must be taken as per the table below but there are no maximum amounts.

Item	Age of Beneficiary	Percentage factor
1	Under 65	4
2	65-74	5
3	75-79	6
4	80-84	7
5	85-89	9
6	90-94	11
7	95 or more	14

However, transition to retirement pension will have a maximum withdrawal limit of 10%.

TYPES OF PENSION BENEFITS

42. Benefits from a super fund may generally be paid as a lump sum, income stream (pension) or annuity, provided the Member has satisfied the relevant condition of release (for example, retirement).

43. There are specific rules imposed by the Superannuation Requirements for paying income streams and annuities. There are also restrictions about what money can be used to purchase an income stream and restrictions on reversionary beneficiaries.

Super income streams

44. Income streams need to fall into one of the following classes:

- account-based
- non account-based.

(a) Account-based income streams have the following general characteristics:

- they require a minimal annual payment to be made with no maximum amount stipulated
- they can only be commuted in particular circumstances
- they can't have a residual capital value
- they can't be paid to a non-dependant beneficiary.

Account-based transition to retirement income stream may be started on or after 1 July 2007. These income streams need to meet the standards of ordinary account based income streams but are also required to have a maximum annual payment limit of 10% of the account balance. Commutations of these pensions can't be taken in cash except in limited circumstances.

- (b) Non account-based income streams have the following general characteristics:
- they may be paid for life or for a fixed term or years
 - they can only be commuted in particular circumstances
 - certain non account-based income streams may have a residual capital value
 - they can't be paid to a non-dependant beneficiary.

Income streams started before 20 September 2007 that meet the SISR pension rules as they existed immediately before 1 July 2007, will generally be taken to be super income streams for the purposes of the super law.

45. There are several rules and administrative requirements involved in setting up income streams and we recommend that before starting to pay any income stream, you seek the advice of a professional such as an accountant, financial planner or actuary.

SUPERANNUATION ENTITLEMENTS UPON DEATH

46. The rules attached to this Funds trust deed provide for the payment of a lump sum or pension benefit in the event of your death and allow you to either:
- 46.1.1 give a direction (binding nomination) to the Trustees regarding the distribution of your death benefit; or
 - 46.1.2 nominate your preferred beneficiaries (non-binding nomination) but ultimately leave it to the discretion of the Trustee to decide how your death benefit is to be distributed amongst your beneficiaries and/or legal personal representatives.

47. If you don't make any nominations, the trustee will use their discretion for the payment of your death benefit
48. If the trustee has taken out a life insurance policy on your behalf then the, your dependants or other persons may also be entitled to a lump sum benefit under that policy. The trustee will collect the proceeds of this policy before paying the benefit as listed above.
49. Death benefits paid out of a super fund will remain concessional tax. All lump sum payments to a dependant (as defined in the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936) are tax free to the dependant.
50. It is important to note that a dependent as referred to under the SMSF rules has a different meaning to that under the ITAA such that lump sum payments to someone who is a non-dependant (as defined in the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936) but a dependant for SIS Act purposes will have the taxable component of the death benefits taxed at 15% plus the Medicare Levy.
51. In the event of death of a Member who was on a pension, all reversionary pensions will be tax-free if the original beneficiary was 60 years or over. If the original beneficiary was less than 60, then if the reversionary beneficiary is 60 years or over, then pension will be tax free, however if the beneficiary is less than 60 years, the pension shall be taxed at his or her own marginal tax rate until he or she turns 60, when the pension becomes tax free.
52. From 1 July 2007, in event of death of a Member who was on pension, reversionary pensions can only be paid to a dependant (as defined in the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936) of the original beneficiary. A non-dependant (as defined in the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936) cannot be paid a pension; they can only be paid a lump sum (provided they are still a SIS Act dependant).
53. Benefits can be paid in cash or in-specie from assets of the fund.

INFORMATION ABOUT RISKS ASSOCIATED WITH THE FUND

54. The significant risks which a Member must consider before joining this fund, include the following:
 - the trustee may not invest the funds wisely, resulting in negative realised and unrealised gains;

- the fund may cease to be a complying superannuation fund either because of an action or inaction of the trustees. The Fund may lose its complying status due to Trustee neglect or allowance of activities which are in breach of the Superannuation Requirements
- future government policy may remove the current concessional tax treatment of all SMSF and this may adversely affect the future planning of the prospective Member;
- as the trustee of the fund, you are responsible for ensuring the maintenance of the accounts, books and minutes. Time and skills may be an issue in the fund administration and the records must provide the detail required by the fund auditor;

PROVIDING YOUR TAX FILE NUMBER TO TRUSTEES

55. As per SIA Act trustees of this fund may request you to supply your tax file number to them. You are not obliged by law to provide your tax file number to them.

Trustees need your Tax File Number to report concessional, non-concessional contributions and Employment termination received on your behalf to the regulator or when you are on pension to issue you a PAYG payment summary or in case of rolling over to another superannuation fund, your benefit has to be transferred with your tax file number.

In order to avoid higher tax on concessional and non-concessional contributions and employment termination payments and to enable your benefits to be rolled out to another fund, as the case may require, you must provide your tax file number to the trustee.
