Hi Brian

Yes, CTL Corporation Pty Ltd still exists, but is dormant and awaiting liquidation. With Peter still isolated overseas (Peter and I are the only two remaining directors – Lincoln resigned after changing corporate status to a private company) it makes formalising the liquidation process a bit more difficult. Given there is no urgency as such, there is really no rush as far as I am concerned.

So not sure if this helps or what concerns your accountant has in this regard.

Best regards

Hi Barry,

A question from my accountant - Is CTL still registered? My understanding was that it was finished up with the Three Spades handover.

I thought it was deregistered?
