Dear Mr Romsloe

Part 1 - Your benefit payment letter as at 20 May 2021

We are pleased to enclose documentation in relation to the partial payment of your superannuation benefit from Plum Super.

We have enclosed the following in relation to this payment:

- Benefit payment statement - this statement covers the period from the date of your last statement, to the effective date of the unit price used to calculate your benefit payment. Also included is a description of our enquiries and complaints procedure.
- Rollover benefit statement - this confirms your rollover and details the components of your benefit. You are not required to lodge this statement with the Australian Taxation Office (ATO).

Any questions?

If you have any questions, or would like more information, please contact us on 1300 55 7586, 8am to 7pm AEST (8pm daylight savings time), Monday to Friday or go to plum.com.au

Yours sincerely

Superannuation terms

Superannuation benefit	Your Superannuation benefit is the benefit that you are entitled to upon leaving the Plan.
Earnings	Investment earnings (which may be positive or negative) are net of investment costs and taxes. Your member accumulation account earnings is calculated on the difference between unit prices over the period investments were held after also allowing for contributions and expenses. The earnings rates are calculated based on the period investments were held.
Expenses	For details regarding amounts for fees, expenses or charges that have been deducted from your account, please refer to your Product Disclosure Statement or the information you received upon joining. In some instances, amounts for fees, expenses or charges are deducted from a common fund and these deductions are borne indirectly by members and are taken into account when determining unit prices. Further information about the deductions can be obtained by contacting us.
Preserved benefit	This portion of your benefit generally cannot be accessed until the earlier of: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • reaching age 65; • ceasing employment with your current employer on or after age 60; • permanent retirement from the workforce on or after you reach 60; or • death or total and permanent disablement. There are other circumstances where you may be able to claim early release of your superannuation benefit, such as severe financial hardship or compassionate grounds. For more information refer to your PDS or the information you received upon joining.
Restricted non-preserved	This is the portion of your superannuation benefit that can be paid to you on termination of gainful employment with your current employer. These benefits can also be paid to you if you satisfy any one of the requirements to release a Preserved benefit.
Unrestricted non-preserved	This is the portion of your superannuation benefit that can be paid to you at any time.
Tax on contributions and other income	The Trustee must pay tax on concessional contributions at the standard rate of tax for superannuation funds of 15%. Concessional contributions are those contributions made from before-tax income for which a deduction can be claimed by the contributor. Concessional contributions include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • employer contributions; • before-tax voluntary contributions – (known as salary sacrifice); • before-tax compulsory member contributions; • transfers from an untaxed source; and • compensation payments.
Surcharge	Legislation has been enacted to remove the surcharge on superannuation contributions and termination payments made or received on or after 1 July 2005. The surcharge will continue to apply to contributions and payments made or received prior to that date and surcharge assessment notices in respect of a period ending prior to 1 July 2005 may be received by the Fund after that date.
Concessional contributions	Concessional contributions are before-tax contributions including Superannuation Guarantee, Award, Salary sacrifice and voluntary employer contributions and may also include any fees and premiums paid by your employer on your behalf.
Non-concessional contributions	Non-concessional contributions are after-tax contributions and include any member (after tax) and spouse contributions. The value of contributions shown in this statement apply only to this account. You need to consider all contributions made to all funds on your behalf to identify whether you will incur Tax on excess contributions.
Contribution caps	Contribution caps have been put in place by the Government to restrict the amount of contributions that can be made to superannuation without incurring excess contributions tax. These contribution caps apply across all of your superannuation funds. If your super contributions caps are exceeded, the government will charge you extra tax. Remember, these caps include personal and employer contributions, salary sacrificing, and any employer reimbursed fees or premiums. For more information on contribution caps refer to ato.gov.au
Tax on excess contributions	Tax on excess contributions is calculated by the Australian Taxation Office (ATO) on any contributions received above the current contribution caps. Tax on excess concessional contributions is calculated at your marginal tax rate and tax on excess non-concessional contributions is calculated at a rate of 49% (including the Medicare Levy and Temporary Budget Repair Levy).
Division 293 tax	Was introduced by the ATO in 2012/13 to reduce the tax concession on superannuation contributions for individuals with income greater than $300,000 a year. Division 293 tax will be charged at 15% of an individual's taxable concessional contributions above the $300,000 threshold. From 1 July 2017, this threshold is reduced to $250,000. For individuals who are members of a defined benefit fund, Division 293 tax may be calculated on notional contributions.
