Hi Randal,

As discussed, in the 21FY we will claim $1,800 as personal concessional, of the $5000 deposit.

This will leave about $2,541 on the carried forward unused cap for the 22FY, for Andy's concessional contributions from his employer at just short of $30K in 22FY.

Are you happy with this?

Cheers,
Rach

Hi Rach

Here is the response from Andy. As I suspected, his work with OM Manganese has finished. He will have about $2,600 going into his fund for the remainder of 2022.

Income to date including payout of accrued leave and new employment is about $96,000, with about $26,000 for the remainder of the year.

I'll call you to discuss.

Regards,
RK

Hi Randal,

Hi Andy

We are looking to prepare your 2021 income tax return and also assist Rachel from Virtu to complete the 2021 return and financial statements for your superannuation fund.

We already have details of your salary income, but would you please advise whether you have any expenses that you would like to claim or any other sources of income for the year.

Also, Rachel has noticed that the contributions into your fund have declined over the last two months. Are you still working for OM (Manganese) Ltd and is your 2022 income likely to be similar to 2021? We are just looking to work out the best option with claiming your superannuation contributions that you have made to your fund in 2021 and 2022.

Kind regards,
Randal
