Total superannuation balance

Your client's total superannuation balance is used to determine their eligibility to make contributions, receive co-contributions, and their spouse's eligibility to claim a tax offset for spouse contributions they make. For your clients who are members of a self-managed super fund, or small APRA fund, the trustee of the fund will also use their members' total superannuation balance to determine whether the segregated assets method can be used to calculate exempt current pension income.

Bring forward arrangement

Important

- All data is based on information reported to us by your client, or their super funds, and processed through our systems.
- Decisions made with this information can have tax consequences for your client. Your clients can refer to their own records or contact their funds to obtain up-to-date information.

You are not in a bring forward arrangement.

Transfer balance cap

 Most transactions are reported to us by your super providers. There are some events you need to report to us, including any loss of super from fraud or dishonesty, bankruptcy payments and family law payment splits. You also need to report personal injury super contributions made prior to 1 July 2007. To report these to us, use the Transfer balance account event form.

 No transactions were found. If you believe this is incorrect, contact your super provider to check whether they have reported this information to us.

Concessional contributions

These are contributions that are made into the super fund before tax. They are taxed at a rate of 15% in the super fund.

Super funds report the contributions to us and we determine whether they are concessional contributions.

The decisions made with this information can have tax consequences. We recommend independent financial advice specific to individual circumstances is obtained.

Remaining concessional contributions Cap available

$25,000.00

Contributions are within the concessional contributions cap. If the concessional contributions cap is exceeded and the exceeded amount is not released, more tax may be due.

Further considerations

- > Concessional contributions may not be reported until 31 October for members of a defined benefit fund.
- > Concessional contributions made to a self-managed fund will not be displayed until we have received and processed the annual return.
- > Concessional contributions will affect additional tax on contributions under Division 293.
- > Refer to previous records or contact the fund (or funds) after 31 October to obtain more up-to-date information.

We currently have no carry-forward concessional contributions information to display

This may be because:

- We process all contributions through our systems to ensure they are identified correctly before we display them, and this may not have happened yet
- Employer contributions may not be payable
- Contributions may not have been made yet as the employer may pay super quarterly
- The super fund (or funds) have not reported the contribution yet
- The super fund (or funds) may be a defined benefit fund, self-managed super fund or other fund that reports this information annually and does not need to report contributions until 31 October or later
- Personal details held by the fund (or funds) may be different to the information we hold. Ensure client details are up to date with both the fund and the ATO

Employer contributions

Only contributions paid by your employer from 1 July 2018 are displayed.

If an employer is not listed:

- > the due date for the employer to pay contributions may not have passed
- > the fund may not be required to report employer contributions to us.

Refer to the fund's online portal or contact the employer if you believe employer contributions should be displayed.
