Binding nomination to pay death benefit information sheet

The operation of this fund, of which you are a member or are being invited to be a member, is governed by a document called a trust deed and the trustee of the fund is bound to act in accordance with the requirements of the trust deed in administering the fund.

The trust deed gives the trustee a discretion to decide whether, in the event of your death, to pay the benefit payable to your estate or to dependants of yours and in what proportions.

However, the trust deed also enables you to override the trustee's discretion by you giving a binding direction to the trustee to pay any death benefit payable either to your estate or to dependants specified by you and in the proportions that you specify.

You can either elect for the trustee to exercise the discretion given to it to decide who to pay your benefit to, in the event of your death, or you can give a binding direction to the trustee by completing the direction set out below.

If you decide to give a binding direction by completing this form, it is important for you to note the following:

1. You can only direct the trustee to pay the benefit either to your estate or to the dependants that you specify on this form (or both).
2. If you wish to give such a direction to the trustee, you must specify the percentage of your total death benefit which is to be paid to each of the estate or your dependants.
3. You can amend or revoke this direction at any time by giving written notice to the trustee and unless amended or revoked, is non-lapsing.
4. If you direct the trustee to pay any part of your death benefit to a person who is not a dependant, such direction will be void and of no effect and the trustee will be required to decide who to pay such death benefit to.
5. It must be signed and dated by you in the presence of 2 witnesses who are both at least 18 years old and neither of the witnesses can be a person who you have nominated to receive a part of your death benefit.
