INTERIM COVER

If this renewal invitation is not accepted by the expiry date of the current policy, we will provide you with 'interim cover' on the terms and conditions set out in this renewal invitation. The interim cover will commence on expiry of the current policy and will end at the earliest of:

- * 4pm 60 calendar days from the expiry date of the current policy;
- * the date the renewal invitation is accepted;
- * the date insurance cover commences under another contract that is intended to replace the current policy or the interim cover; or
- * the date we cancel the interim cover.

Where you advise us the renewal invitation has been declined by the customer we will not provide any interim cover.

WE RECOMMEND YOU REFER TO YOUR POLICY WORDING FOR A FULL DESCRIPTION OF THE COVER, TERMS CONDITIONS AND EXCLUSIONS.

The Average Clause - Under Insurance

Fire and Business Interruption Policies, Industrial Special Risk cover, Machinery/Electronic Breakdown, Special Contingency and Contractors Risk usually contain an Average Clause. This means that you must insure for the full value and this of course varies with the type of cover you take - Market Value, Indemnity or Replacement. If you are under insured your claim may be reduced in proportion to the amount of under insurance.

The Interest of Other Parties

Policy conditions exclude the interest of other persons or organisations not named (e.g. Mortgagees, Lessors, Principals etc.) unless their interest is noted on the Policy.

Liability Insurance

Most liability Policies do not provide Indemnity in respect of events that occurred prior to the commencement of the contract.

Australian Financial Complaints Authority

Clients who are not satisfied with our services may contact our Complaints Officer. Our Company also subscribes to the Australian Financial Complaints Authority (AFCA), a free customer service. Further information is available from our office or contact AFCA directly on 1800 931 678 or visit www.afca.org.au

Cancellation

In the event that a policy is cancelled by you or the insurer before the expiry of the policy term, Centrepoint Insurance Brokers reserves the right to retain out of any return premium that is received from the insurer, the amount of the annual commission payable to Centrepoint Insurance Brokers by the Insurer as a fee payable by you to us.

Waiver of rights and disclaimers

Some insurance policies limit or exclude claims where the insured has limited or waived their rights to recover a loss from the person who was responsible for causing the loss. You should not sign any agreement that modifies or limits your rights of recovery from another party. You should always seek professional advice before signing such a disclaimer. Whenever you are asked to sign such a disclaimer you should seek advice first.

Invoices

Your payment of the invoice issued is treated as acceptance of all the terms and conditions of the associated insurance policy.

Class of Policy: EDI - Business Insurance
The Insured: BERTUS & GWENDOLIN POELSTRA

Policy No: 15T8492502
Invoice No: H49004
Our Ref: POEL B&G

Where a premium remains unpaid, an insurer may have the right to cancel the policy and you may not be insured. The insurer may also charge a premium for the time on risk.

Check your invoice for payment options. Please note that a surcharge may be applied to payments made by credit card.

Automatic Renewal

In some circumstances we may automatically renew your existing policy with your current insurer as per expiring policy details. You will be notified in our renewal invitation or quotation offer if this is relevant to the financial service offered or provided to you. Where this arrangement is in place you can contact us at any time in order to instruct us to stop automatic renewals.

Duty of Disclosure

Before you enter into an insurance contract, you have a duty to tell the insurer anything that you know, or could reasonably be expected to know, may affect their decision to insure you and on what terms.

You have this duty until they agree to insure you.

You have the same duty before you renew, extend, vary or reinstate an insurance contract.

You do not need to tell the insurer anything that:

- * reduces the risk they insure you for; or
- * is common knowledge; or
- * they know or should know as an insurer; or
- * they waive your duty to tell them about.

If you do not tell the insurer something

If you do not tell the insurer something you are required to, they may cancel your contract or reduce the amount they will pay you if you make a claim, or both.

If your failure to tell them is fraudulent, they may refuse to pay a claim and treat the contract as if it never existed.

We rely on you. It is important you understand that we will rely on the accuracy and completeness of the information you provide to us. We do not independently verify the information you provide before sending it to the insurer.

Keeping your information up to date

Once your insurance cover has commenced, you should tell your broker about any changes to your circumstance when they occur. This will allow us to ensure your cover remains appropriate.

You should not sign any agreement that modifies or limits your rights of recovery from another party. You should always seek professional advice before signing such a disclaimer. Whenever you are asked to sign such a disclaimer you should seek advice first.

Your payment of the invoice issued is treated as acceptance of all the terms and conditions of the associated insurance policy.

Where a premium remains unpaid, an insured may have the right to cancel the policy and you may not be insured. The insurer may also charge a premium for the time on risk.

Check your invoice for payment options. Please note that a surcharge may be applied to payments made by credit card.

Automatic Renewals

In some circumstances we may automatically renew your existing policy with your current insurer as per expiring policy details. You will be notified in our renewal invitation or quotation offer if this is relevant to the financial service offered or provided to you. Where this arrangement is in place you can contact us at any time in order to instruct us to stop automatic renewals.

Duty of Disclosure

Before you enter into an insurance contract, you have a duty to tell the insurer anything that you know, or could reasonably be expected to know, may affect their decision to insure you and on what terms.

You have this duty until they agree to insure you.

You have the same duty before you renew, extend, vary or reinstate an insurance contract.

You do not need to tell the insurer anything that:

- reduces the risk they insure you for; or
- is common knowledge; or
- they know or should know as an insurer; or
- they waive your duty to tell them about.

If you do not tell the insurer something

If you do not tell the insurer something you are required to, they may cancel your contract or reduce the amount they will pay you if you make a claim, or both.

If your failure to tell them is fraudulent, they may refuse to pay a claim and treat the contract as if it never existed.

We rely on you. It is important you understand that we will rely on the accuracy and completeness of the information you provide to us. We do not independently verify the information you provide before sending it to the insurer.

Keeping your information up to date

Once your insurance cover has commenced, you should tell your broker about any changes to your circumstance when they occur. This will allow us to ensure your cover remains appropriate.
